Holstein Is All-American Supreme Champion

VERNON ACHENBACH, JR.
Lancaster Farming Staff
HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — Out of the more than 1,000 dairy animals entered during the week-long All-American Dairy Show, held at the state Farm Show Complex in Harrisburg, a 5-year-old Holstein owned by Marion Andrew, of Kents Reserve Holsteins, in Centerville, Md., was named the supreme champion out of all the breeds.

The supreme champion of the week-long Pennsylvania All-American Dairy Show has become a high honor pitting the grand champions of the six major dairy cattle breed shows held during the week.

The competition was tight and several judges determine the supreme champion.

While results for the national shows weren't completed by presstime, in addition to the supreme champion, the grand champions of the various breeds included:

- the grand Jersey, Pensmith TJ Mindy Jersey, shown by Spring Valley Farm, Westminster, Md.;

- the grand Milking Shorthorn, Kingsdale Lucy, owned by Lucy Syndicate, with GMC Farm, Cornish Flat, N.H.;
- the grand Ayrshire, Sonny Acres JJ Bouquet, owned by Doug Evans, of Sunny Acres Farm, Georgetown, N.Y.;
- the grand Guernsey, Littlefields Fayette Mona Lira, owned by Alison Littlefield, of Littlefield Farms, Watertown, N.Y.;
- the grand Brown Swiss, Hawthorne Rhythmic Riki, owned by Charles Chaney, of Garstlyn

Northeast Poultry Show Focuses On Biosecurity, Prices, Quality Control

LANCASTER (Lancaster Co.) — Poultry producers have tackled disease, fluctuating prices, and rodent control for decades. But when Salmonella Enteritidis (SE) showed signs of increasing about 15 years ago, the problem was handled not with fierce independence but by cooperation among government, industry, and science.

At the Northeast Poultry Show held Wednesday and Thursday of this week at Host Resort in Lancaster, Dr. John Mason was lauded for his work as director of the USDA SE pilot program that was set up in Lancaster.

controlled when people are willing to work together, according to McLaurin.

The willingness for producers to develop trust in the government's program was largely established through Mason's diplomacy. The cooperative attitude among producers, scientists and government in working with the pilot project set up in Lancaster County is being held up as a model to other commodities who face similar problems caused by disease, McLaurin said.

"Producers are taking every effort to eliminate even the slightest risk of foodborne illnesses," said Paton, who is retiring after 40 years of service with USDA.

It is this cooperative spirit that Dr. Ed Mallinson of the University of Maryland would like to see expand.

"It's an opportunity to seize and additional money to be captured to use for the eradication of disease."

In his speech on biosecurity, Mallinson said that decisions made now on such issues as manure removal will affect the future of flock health, safety, and profitability. He stressed the importance of biosecurity to take every step possible to prevent disease in the flock.

His definition of biosecurity is simple he said, "Don't bring germs to your birds and don't bring your birds to germs."

John Pederson, an expert on commodity price predictions, told the audience that record meat supplies will occur in the next nine months partly because of cheap feed available as a result of record crops.

"When feed is cheap, meat is cheap," Pederson said.

Meat exports are expected to hit

A Visit To Pennwoods Percheron Farm

CENTRE HALL (Centre Co.) — For the John Cole family, Pennwoods Percherons, to be specific, has become addictive. The Coles show in the six and eight horse hitch classes around the nation and plan to be at the Keystone International Livestock Show next week. KILE is one of 45 qualifying shows on the Classic Series Show circuit.

In February each year the "world series of draft horse hitching" takes place in Ocala, Florida. This North American Six-Horse Hitch Classic is the climax of the show season, and the Cole team won this prestigious event earlier this year.

John is co-chairman of the KILE horse committee and on the KILE executive board.

At Pennwoods, the horses are worked daily. "They never do any farm work," Chad said. "But they need to be trained so they perform well at the shows."

"It's hard to tell someone what you are looking for in a horse for a hitch team. You just know the horse is right when you see it in the team. The 'wheel' pair (next to the wagon) should be the largest with the 'swing' pair in the middle next largest. The 'lead' pair will be the smallest and have lots of lift and action in the front hooves."

"We like the sport because we're around a lot of nice people," Chad said. "It's family oriented, and we like that. They are people just like us."

The Cole family also helps with the 4-H program by taking horses

Poultry Markets

Northeast Chicken Parts

Wednesday, September 28, 1994

Trucklot buying interest was mixed. Offerings were usually at the least adequate with boneless skinless breasts the only item held with a degree of confidence. Current business is still reflective of the last week of the month, but forward buying is optimistic, especially on the cutlets. Trade sentiment is cautious.

Delmarva Broiler/Fryer Market

Wednesday, September 28, 1994

Movement of ready-to-cook whole birds was generally no better than fair and disappointing. Offerings were fully adequate to ample and excess supplies were competitively priced to stimulate sales. Live supplies were mostly moderate; weights were in a full range of light to heavy. Processing schedules were very heavy. Less than trucklot asking prices were unchanged at 53 to 64 cents. Trade sentiment was weak, occasionally steady. In the parts complex, boneless skinless breasts continued to tighten as retail inquiry developed for promotional activity. Other parts were fully adequate to ample, particularly wings and leg quarters.

Eastern PA & NJ Poultry Report

Atlanta, Ga.

Tuesday, September 27, 1994

Trading on light type fowl was generally unchanged while sales were too few to report on heavy hens. Offerings continued to satisfy desired processing requirements. Demand moderate. Finished product sales were seasonal with some additional activity noted due to government purchase programs. Undertone at least steady.

NATIONAL EGG MARKET - AT A GLANCE:

Prices were unchanged to lower in the Northeast and Midwest, and unchanged elsewhere. The market tone was barely steady to weak. Demand was light to moderate in all channels with occasional retail specials creating improved demand. Supplies of white eggs were adequate to ample, and brown eggs in New England remained closely balanced. Breaking stock supplies were fully adequate from regular suppliers, and demand was light. Light hen offerings were fully adequate for the light demand, and prices were too few to report.

DAILY NATIONAL GRAIN SUMMARY: FURTHER CORRECTIONS IN WHEAT PITS PUSHED PRICES MODERATELY LOWER, DESPITE GOOD EXPORT DEMAND. HARVEST PRESSURE KEPT A LID ON CORN AND BEAN PRICES AS RECORD OR NEAR CROPS LOOK MORE PROMISING. WHEAT 1 TO 4 CENTS LOWER. CORN 1 TO 9 CENTS LOWER. SOYBEANS 5 TO 9 CENTS LOWER. EGYPT AND THE PHILIPPINES' SUBSTANTIAL BEEF ORDERS FAILED TO PULL WHEAT PRICES OUT OF THEIR TWO DAY SLUMP. SPILLOVER WEAKNESS FROM CORN AND BEAN PRICES AND FUND SELLING ON THE BOARD WERE THE MAJOR NEGATIVE INFLUENCES. WITHOUT SOUNDING LIKE A BROKEN RECORD, CORN AND BEAN PRICES DROPPED LOWER AGAIN ON FALL HARVEST PRESSURE. FAVORABLE WEATHER AND FORECASTS FOR DRY CONDITIONS THIS WEEK, WEIGHED ON PRICES. CORN PRICES HAVE DROPPED BELOW THE $2.00 PER BUSHEL MARK IN MANY PLACES.

OCTOBER 3-9, 1994

CHILD HEALTH DAY, OCTOBER 3.

THE OTHER FIRE

On October 8, 1871, the same night fire destroyed much of Chicago, an even deadlier fire was burning out of control north of Green Bay, Wisconsin. Between 1,100 and 1,200 people died in the Peshtigo (Wisconsin) fire, the second deadliest fire in history. A summer of unrelieved drought contributed to both fires, as did a southwest wind that whipped up the frenzied firestorms. Both fires started shortly after 9:00 P.M., however, the Peshtigo fire ended before morning, simply because the inferno had devoured all fuel. Most of those who survived the holocaust did so by standing neck-deep in the Peshtigo River, although even that had its dangers. Five-year-old Carrie Heidenworth escaped drowning by grabbing the horn of a cow that was swimming past.

For violent fires soon burn out themselves. — Shakespeare

TIP OF THE WEEK

One teaspoon of fresh herbs equals 1/2 teaspoon dried.

EARTHWISE

Autumn's chill is in the air, the windows are closed, and the aroma of last night's fish and broccoli lingers. Set out shallow bowls of vinegar to eliminate offensive odors. Or simmer cinnamon sticks and cloves in a pot of water. Place a few sprigs of fresh herbs in a still-warm oven and leave the door ajar.

Special Offer: Find out more about herbs and spices with our handy chart. Recommended uses, recipes for special blends, and more. Send $3 to Spice Chart, Dept. UF, The Old Farmer's Almanac, P.O. Box 520, Dublin, NH 03444.

BUTTERMILK/HERB SALAD DRESSING

1/2 cup buttermilk
1/2 cup mayonnaise
1/2 teaspoon dried basil
1/2 teaspoon dried dill weed dash of Worcestershire sauce salt and pepper to taste

Combine all ingredients in a jar. Cover and shake well to mix. (A blender may be used.) To use buttermilk powder, substitute 2 tablespoons buttermilk powder and 1/2 cup milk for the liquid.

Makes 1 cup.

OPINION

Food-Related Scare Story

Many news stories you read deal with what Sharon Begley, a Newsweek senior writer who specializes in science and the environment, calls "the cancer-of-the-week syndrome." What Ms. Begley means is that on a regular basis, scare stories are published that blame chemicals, mostly pesticides, for causing cancer.

These man-made chemicals are only a small part of the chemicals we eat each day. Natural chemicals found in vegetables, for example, have many more carcinogens than any small amount of artificial chemical residue that may still remain on the plant when we eat it. A cup of coffee has more natural pesticides than any kind of tossed salad you can imagine.

We live longer, on the average, than people of past generations, largely because science has conquered many of the fatal diseases. People enjoy being scared. That's why they go to the movies. But at home, when they pick up the daily newspaper, we think they should be comforted to know that our farmers produce the safest food supply in the world at a cost that is incredibly low, often below the cost of production.

And if they really want to be scared, they should think about what it would be like if the grocery store shelves were suddenly bare. Now that's what we would call a food-related scare story.

To Enter Grain Bins Safely

Grain farmers who store their own grain are at risk of suffocation in grain bins.

Moving grain is especially dangerous. Flowing grain works in the same way as quicksand, pulling anyone in the bin down and under in less than one minute with very little ability to free themselves.

Following a few safety rules while working around a grain bin may help protect your life. If you must enter a grain bin, always stay above the stored material on a cat walk. Never enter a bin to break a bridge or to dislodge caked material from the side of a bin. Use a wooden or plastic pole to break material free.

Do not use a metal pole, which might come in contact with electric lines. Never enter a bin while it is being unloaded. Have controls which run loading and unloading equipment locked off anytime someone is in the bin to avoid someone from starting the equipment.

Run ventilating equipment before entering and while in the bin. Wear a safety belt or harness that is equipped with a lifeline that will keep you above the stored grain if you fall. Always have someone standing by outside the bin anytime you enter the storage.

To Precondition Beef Calves

Chester Hughes, extension livestock agent, reminds us the purpose of preconditioning or pre-vaccinating beef calves is to help alleviate the stress at weaning, shipment, and adjustment to a feedlot environment. This also helps build resistance against some of the causes of disease that result from stress, especially respiratory diseases.

Preconditioning also implies the calves are castrated, implanted, dehorned, weaned and started on feed at least three weeks prior to sale or shipment. All weaned beef calves should be dehorned and bull calves castrated well before weaning.

Also, two rounds of vaccinations should be administered, including IBR, BVD, PI3, BRSV, H, Somnus, Pasturella, and a seven-way clostridial.

Depending on your program, you may include implants and wormers. If you have any questions, consult your veterinarian.

To Plant

Winter Cover Crops

Winter cover crops play a very important role in nutrient management. Many farmers need to empty their manure storage units during the fall season. This means these crop nutrients are applied to cropland at a time of year when they are not needed by a growing crop. Therefore these nutrients are vulnerable to being lost to the environment because of soil erosion and leaching.

Winter cover crops are a valuable tool farmers may use to prevent economic loss of valuable nutrients and prevent environmental damage. By planting a small grain crop such as rye, it will take up the available nitrogen and hold it in the plant preventing loss to the water supply. If the rye is harvested, the nutrients will be utilized as high quality feed. If the rye is killed or plowed under next spring, the nutrients will become available to the following crop.

The rye will also prevent nutrient loss by slowing soil erosion. Rye may be planted as late as November, but the earlier it is planted the more nutrients it will take up and the more it will yield next spring.

Feather Prof's Footnote: "The loftier your goals, the higher your risk, the greater your accomplishments."

Background Scripture:

Judges 2:6 through 3:6

Devotional Reading:

Psalms 81:6-16

The late Harry Emerson Fosdick of the Riverside Church in New York City was one of my preaching idols as a young minister. I was privileged to hear him on one or two occasions and read most or all of his books.

One of his sermons that intrigued me was entitled, if I remember correctly, "Worshipping The gods of Our Enemies."

I don't recall the text upon which the sermon was based, but I rather imagine it was from the book of Judges—most likely the second chapter of Judges, which is a kind of summary of the whole book: the people of Israel forsake God and worship the gods of their neighbors: calamity comes upon them and they cry to God for help; he sends someone to extricate them, and then, freed of their disaster, they return to following other gods. Chapter after chapter, this is the story of the Book of Judges.

Although we may have difficulty in understanding how the Israelites could have been so stupid and fickle, very often the story of the Israelites is our story, too, and the message of this ancient book is a message to us as well as to them. Have we not from time to time fallen down to worship the gods of our enemies, too?

For approximately 80 percent of my life the world has been the stage for a gigantic struggle between democracy and communism. Within the last few years it has appeared that the battle is over—although I'm not entirely certain about that. During that long struggle the enemy was usually characterized as "materialistic communism," a legitimate appellation, I think, because, as an ideology, communism was based upon that idea that well-being is dependent upon our access to material goods, requiring essentially a redistribution of wealth. The collapse of Eastern Europe and the former Soviet Union would seem to indicate that communistic materialism has failed miserably on an international scale. So, is that the end of materialism? No, hardly, for it seems to be the one factor that permeates the lives of people around the globe, including, and probably especially, our own society here in the USA. According to our current culture, the answer to our deepest needs and problems is to be found in the material things we are able to acquire. Materialism tells us who is successful and what is important in the home, the school, the marketplace, and, yes, even in the churches. The values that propel our society today are largely economic, not spiritual or even moral.

GODLESS COMMUNISM

Our old enemy was also labeled as "Godless communism," another tag that was, for the most part, accurate. Religion was permitted behind the Iron Curtain, so long as it was kept private and did not attempt to affect that communist society. But, if communist society was "godless"—and it was—is ours by contrast necessarily "Godful"? I think not. Prophetic voices in our society are told to keep their religious views private. National issues are decided, not on the basis of what we may think God wills, but on the basis of political ideology.

The two labels which transcend all other considerations today are "liberal" and "conservative." If people think something is "liberal" in its inception, they rarely ask what God thinks of it. If something bears the label "conservative," it may be rejected, not because of its worth, but because of that label. Political ideology plays a much more important role in our society than spirituality.

These may be just two of the ways in which our society worships at the altars of our old enemies. Can you think of any more?

Bury a little residue.
Or a lot.

The new White 445 Chisel Plow makes complying with residue guidelines and requirements easy. Options like rippled coulters and chisel points set at 15" spacing leave lots of residue. Concave coulters and twisted shovels set at 12" spacing leave less residue. And these are just a few of the combinations available.

Our deep-till shank option rips hardpan by tilling 4" to 6" inches deeper than chisel shanks. This reduces compaction problems. And our leveling bar option provides a smoother surface for your next pass.

With nine models, there's a model with the options to match your residue management plans.

White Row Crop Cultivators are designed for high speed

Knob View Wins At Frederick Holstein Show

KAREN BUTLER
Maryland Correspondent

FREDERICK (Md.) — Knob View Counselor Patsy, a 3-year-old Carnation Counselor-ET daughter bred and owned by Richard and Patti Kepler, Knob View Holsteins, had her day in the sun Tuesday as she swept the Three-Year-Old, senior champion female, two years and over, grand champion female, and cow any age Judged on udder alone open classes at the Great Frederick Fair. The cow is a candidate for All-Maryland, to be decided on October 15 and 16. Her dam was grand champion in Frederick in 1992.

Judge Curtis Day of Shippensburg, PA selected Patsy from a field of approximately one hundred-fifty entrants in what he termed a "really good, quality show". Nineteen classes were shown at the Holstein show held at the Frederick County Fairgrounds.

Junior champion honors went to the first place senior yearling heifer Maryland-Garden-Spot Nick Betty, out of United Nick-ET, shown by Adam Stevens for Maryland-Garden-Spot Farm. Judge Day was impressed by the heifer's "clean, angular top-line" conformation, saying she was "an extremely quality heifer with a beautiful rib".

Knob View Holsteins also walked away with the award for junior best three females all bred and owned by the same exhibitor. Second place winner in this category was Len-Land Acres, followed by Mike and Elizabeth Doody in third.

With the champions are Curtis Day, judge; Robin Fawley, Frederick County 4-H Queen; Adam Stevens with the junior champion; Richard Kepler with the grand champion; and David O'Hara, Frederick County 4-H King.

Centerville Purina Plant Has Open House

CENTERVILLE (Lancaster Co.)—The Purina Mills, Inc., located on Hempland Road, was the location for an open house for customer appreciation. This open house was tied in with the announcement of the production of the one-millionth ton of feed that was produced at the mill and the 100-year anniversary of Purina Mills, Inc.

"Many farmers who were here 12 years ago when we opened the plant are back again today," said Phil Jaquith, district sales manager. "And many of the people who work here grew up here. So you can say we are a local company even though we are a national company."

The mill was opened in 1982 to produce meal feeds, especially poultry feed. At the time, many new poultry operations were being developed in the area. Later the need for other feed became evident, and two pellet mills were added in 1986. Now they produce 200,000 tons of feed per year and reached the millionth ton on Monday of this week at 7 a.m.

According to Marc Lewis, production manager, the special milestone ton was given to Abe and Jay Hess of Bacon Acres in Conestoga. Hess's Mill delivered the feed, and Glenn Kunkel was the driver.

The plant runs 24 hours per day with two 12-hour shifts, five days per week. Saturday is clean-up and repair-equipment day. The plant employs 13 people, five in production, two in the office, two mechanics, two truck drivers, and two supervisors.

About 400 customers, prospects, and other guests attended the open house. Many of these visitors toured the plant.

State 4-H Dairy Exhibitors Hold S

VERNON ACHENBACH JR.
Lancaster Farming Staff
HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — The state's 4-H dairy cattle exhibitors showed 647 animals Monday in the Large Arena of the state Farm Show Complex in Harrisburg during the culminating show of the year in 4-H dairy cattle showing.

The number of animals actually shown was about 200 fewer than entered. The majority of those opting out of bringing their qualifying animals to Harrisburg were from the northwest region of the state, where problems with vaccinations for bovine virus diarrhoea have affected several farms, although the problem was not isolated to that region.

The fact that the number of the state's top 4-H animals shown Monday was down from previous years was not indicated by the strength of the shows, or the animals.

Large classes dominated most every breed show in the final state show for the 4-H youth.

Holstein

In the Holstein breed show, judged by Brian Garrison, of Tiffin, Ohio, James Justin Burdette, John D. Kelly shows his reserve grand and senior champion of the Holstein show, 5-year-old Spring-Lane Mark Alexi.

of Mercersburg, showed the senior and grand champion, a junior 2-year-old, Windy-Knoll View CC Pear-ET.

Burdette's champion is the daughter of well-known Windy-Knoll View Ultimate Pala, a grand champion cow at past state shows. The 2-year-old's sire was Carnation Counselor-ET.

The reserve grand and reserve senior champion of the Holstein show was a 5-year-old cow, Spring-Lane Mark Alexi, owned by John D. Kelly, of Tyrone. Kelly's reserve champion was a home-bred cow out of Walkway Chief Mark.

The junior champion of the show was a bred and owned senior calf, Pack Herd Encore Bazuka, shown by David Packard, of Troy. She is a Marcrest Encore daughter.

The reserve junior champion was a summer yearling, Ore Farm Vintage Jasmine, shown by Tara Kocher, of Mifflintown.

Showmanship judge for the Holstein show was Thomas Barley, of Elizabethtown.

Fowler Branstetter, of Edmon-ton, Kentucky, was the judge for the Milking Shorthorn, Guernsey and Ayrshire shows. Joy Crothers, of Oxford, was showmanship judge for the three breed shows.

Guernsey

In the Guernsey show, the senior and grand champion was junior 3-year-old Sniders Fayette Brett, shown by Aaron Gable, of New Enterprise. The homebred cow was out of sire Dutch Mill Telestars.

The reserve senior and grand champion Guernsey was also the best bred and owned animal of the show. Paula Guyer, of Derry, received the rosette with her junior 2-year-old, Hi Field Zeus Jessie, a daughter of home-bred sire, Hi Field Baker Zeus.

The junior champion of the Guernsey show was a senior yearling, Sniders Fayettes Dazzle, shown by Amber Clark of New Enterprise, while the reserve junior champion was an intermediate yearling, Hi Field Jasper Dawn-Twin, owned by Amy Guyer, also of Derry.

Ayrshire

In the Ayrshire show, the senior and reserve grand champion was junior 2-year-old Hartman-AYR Moon River Jeana, shown by Stephen White, of Albion.

The reserve grand and reserve senior champion Ayrshire was

Milking Shorthorn

In the Milking Shorthorn show, the grand champion was 4-year-old Summit Vista Dan Dixie, owned by Matthew Goshorn, of Blairs Mills. It was also the best bred and owned animal.

The reserve grand champion of the show was a junior 2-year-old, Three Springs JJ Exp, owned by James Young, of New Enterprise.

The junior champion was intermediate yearling Horizon Royal Shelly-Exp, also owned by James Young.

Chriselle Fisher, of New Enterprise, showed the reserve junior champion, a junior calf, Horizon Sir W Clair.

Judging the Jersey and Brown Swiss breeds was Jeff Myers, of Westminster, Maryland. Irene Osborne, of Greencastle, judged showmanship.

Jersey

The reserve senior and grand champion was a senior 2-year-old, owned by Thomas Greenleaf, of Martinsburg.

The junior champion was an intermediate yearling, Rankin J. Imperial Mystical, owned by Lisa Rankin, of Burgettstown.

Brown Swiss

In the Brown Swiss breed show, the senior and grand champion was 5-year-old Four Season Delegate Ebbie, owned by Jason Kennedy, of Butler.

The reserve grand champion Brown Swiss was a senior 2-year-old, Lake Lane Pebbles, owned by Joshua Hushon, of Delta.

Thomas Zartman, of Ephrata, showed the junior champion Brown Swiss, Indian Run Ashley, a junior yearling that was also named best bred and owned animal of the show.

The reserve junior champion was an intermediate calf owned by Tammie Deibler, of Boalsburg, Victory Acres Prest Lace.

All-American Supreme Champion

Swiss, New Windsor, Md.;

The supreme champion was Fairhill Enhancer Song-ET, with production records to prove she has more than good looks. According to the catalogue, Song posted a 305-day production 3-7 lactation record of 34,320 pounds of milk on twice-daily milking and had a 3.1 percent fat.

The big, deep-chested cow looked big among the Holsteins, and seemed to loom over the colored breeds during the selection process for supreme.

In past years, a spotlight was used to dramatize the entrance of each grand champion into the center ring of the Large Arena. However, the appearance of each grand champion was not diminished by the lack of special lighting.

Organ music played while the specifics of the grand champions were read as the animals were introduced to the decorated ring.

The judges, except for Richard Keene, of Gilbertsville, N.Y., who was the Eastern National Show judge, took what seemed like at least 15 minutes to determine a champion and ringside comments supported the opinion that all the grand champions were excellent examples of the respective breeds.

The Jersey grand champion was named runner-up to the supreme, and then the Holstein was named.

tlefields Fayette Mona Lira, owned by Alison Littlefield, of Littlefield Farms, Watertown, N.Y.; the grand Brown Swiss is Hawthorne Rhythmic Riki, owned by Charles Chaney, of Garstlyn Swiss, New Windsor, Md.; and the grand Holstein, also the supreme, Fairhill Enhancer Song-ET, owned by Marion Andre, of Kents Reserve Holsteins, Centerville, Md.

Walk Set

KIRKWOOD (Lancaster Co.) — The Octoraro Watershed Association will be hosting a fall foliage walk along the west branch of the Octoraro River on Saturday, October 15.

Patrick Fasano will be leading the mile and a half interpretive hike.

Learn about all the fall colors and see one of the most scenic stretches of the Octoraro. The tour will begin at Ken Shoemaker's farm on Maple Shade Road in Kirkwood at 9 a.m. and return by 11:30 a.m.

Please wear sneakers or hiking shoes. Children must be accompanied by an adult. The program is limited to 25 people, so registration is required.

There is no fee; however, a donation to the Watershed Association would be appreciated.

To register or get more information, call Patrick Fasano at (717) 529-2607 between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. or Ken Shoemaker at (717) 529-2467.

Winners Named In Junior Swine Breeding Show

York Co. Correspondent

YORK (York Co.)—Five junior exhibitors were selected champion winners in Junior Swine Breeding competition here.

Sarah Kitzmiller, New Freedom, took both champion and reserve rosettes with her Berkshire February and March sow entries. Chester White breed honors went to Jennifer Flinchbaugh.

Matt Trostle, Red Lion, claimed both champion and reserve Hampshire awards, exhibiting March and February sow pigs. Spotted Poland honors went to Kathleen Jenkins with a pair of April sow pigs.

Top honors were split in breed with the heaviest competition, Yorkshires. Sarah Kitzmiller finished in the champion spot with her winning April sow, over the reserve champion February sow exhibited by Jennifer Flinchbaugh.

In swine exhibitor abilities contests, Jennifer Flinchbaugh earned the champion showman title, with Gerald Shue, Hanover, named to the reserve champion showman spot. Gerald Shue topped the fitting runoffs to take the champion honor over reserve fitting winner Shanna Daugherty, York.

4-H reaches young people across the nation, offering them an opportunity to contribute to their community as they develop independence, awareness and responsibility. With subjects like livestock, plants and soil, energy, ecology and jobs and careers, boys and girls between the ages of 9 and 19 partake in activities and projects aimed at promoting creativity and personal growth. Their 4-H experience provides a foundation of strong ideals to live by as they become our next generation of adults. It's an important organization... one that we heartily support and proudly salute.

Thanks, 4-H

JOYCE BUYP

York Co. correspondent

YORK (York Co.) — Sometimes you can have your cake and eat it, too.

A cake donated to the York County 4-H meats judging team, auctioned off as the kickoff offering at the the junior livestock sale recently, earned the team $825 toward its attendance at national competition.

And then they got to eat it, as well.

But not until the cake—with colorful icing-based depictions of a sheep, hog and steer—had gone from the hands of donor and decorator Lois Rankin, Abbottstown, and through nine separate bidders who turned it back to the assembled junior livestock exhibitors to share.

George and Joan Grim were the first buyers of the cake, with a $210 bid.

"Sell it again," the Thomasville couple instructed. York County Pork Producers took up the challenge, making the second cake buy at $150. Back on the auction block it went again.

In rapid succession, the cake then sold to Glatfelter Agribusiness Insurance, Anderson Feed Company, B & B Cake Buyers Syndicate, Innerst's Berkshires and Parlett's Twin Maple Farm, Carlos Loeffler, Inc., Neutzel's Yorkshires and Wilson's Yorkshires. On the ninth round of bidding, the Jack Myers' family's Dunkard Valley Farm purchased the cake and donated it to all the assembled junior livestock exhibitors to share.

Spirited bidding for the cake set the stage for the sale of the champions of the beef, swine, and lamb shows judged earlier. And numerous other purchases were generously donated back to benefit various county junior livestock programs, including $2,500 toward the York County 4-H exhibition center under construction.

Hoss's Steak and Sea House restaurants held out in a quick runup of bids on the champion steer, exhibited by Shawn Waltemyer of Airville. The regional restaurant chain paid $3 per pound for the 1,295-pound crossbred, then donated it back in benefit of the 4-H meats judging team. On the second round of bids, Walter's Cattle Co., Airville, purchased Waltemyer's steer for 75 cents per pound.

A $1.30 per pound bought the reserve champion market steer for south Branch Farms, Robert Kinsley, York. Exhibitor of the 1,230-pound reserve winner was Suzanne Bishard, York.

Champion and reserve champion market lambs were both from the same exhibitor and purchased by the same buyer. Lebanon Valley National Bank bought the pair of lambs from Adam Sellers, Thomasville, paying $2 per pound for the 127-pound champion and $1.90 per pound for the 119-pound reserve lamb.

High per-pound price for the day went to the champion market hog, a 248-pound crossbred that sold on a $6.50 per pound bid from Lease's Auto Body and Paint Specialists and BSW. Exhibitor of the champion hog was Bobbi Myers, Thomasville.

Glatfelter Agribusiness Insurance, York, held out for the winning bid on the 243-pound reserve champion hog. The $3.75 per pound bid went to reserve exhibitor Dave Myers, Wellsville, wrapping up his last year as a junior exhibitor at the fair.

Four weight class champions opened the swine portion of the sale. Hatfield Packing Company purchased the 267-pound champion heavyweight on a 90-cent bid from exhibitor Jason Frantz, Seven Valleys. The champion medium weight at 225 pounds, exhibited by Kelly Dutrey, Dalastown, sold for 95 cents per pound to S & C Cattle Company.

Jesse Saylor Plastering Company was the successful buyer, on a 90-cent bid, of the 228-pound reserve champion medium weight exhibited by James Neutzel, Felton. Hatfield Packing took the 252-pound reserve champion heavyweight for 80 cents per pound, shown by exhibitor Heather Jasienski, Felton.

With the champions, average price for the York Fair's junior livestock swine portion of the sale was 87 cents per pound. Without the champion, sale average price was 77 cents per pound.

In the lamb sale, Matt Sellers, Thomasville, sold his champion medium weight 107-pound lamb on the final bid of $1.10 per

(Turn to Page A25)

Junior Livestock Sale Benefits Exhibitors, Activities

A $3.00 per pound bid by Hoss' Steak and Sea House bought the champion steer from 4-H exhibitor Shawn Waltemyer. Rob Billet, left, and Craig Campbell, bidding for Hoss', then donated the steer back to be resold, benefiting the 4-H meats judging team. Walter's Cattle Company was the second buyer.

pound to Walter Dunlap Livestock. Agway of West York was the buyer at $1.15 per pound of the 80-pound lightweight champion, exhibited by Heather Moyer, Hanover.

Jacob Ebersole, York, had the 113-pound reserve champion lightweight, sold to Dogwood

Lane Farm on a $1.15 bid. The 93-pound reserve champion light medium weight, shown by Lindsay Jones, East Berlin, brought a final $2.25 bid from buyer KDV Orthopedics. Jerry's Food Rite was the successful bidder, at $1.05 per pound, on the 80-pound reserve champion light weight exhibited by Meghan Hayes.

Sale average on the lambs was $1.19 with the champion, and $1.17 without the champion.

Champion lightweight steer buyer was the Glen Rock State Bank, with a $1 per pound bid on the 1,050-pounder exhibited by Brett Bishard, York. Keith Grubb's champion medium weight at 1,119 pounds sold to Brad Bishard Insurance on an 85-cent bid.

TRI-COUNTY HOG EQUIPMENT $ VALUE LEADER $

PIG SAVER "DUTCH CRATE"

Developed through testing in our research farms the goal was to develop a crate that nearly eliminates crushing, due to lay one, unmatched durability and be easy to work around. All this has been achieved by a unique gravity fill-pull that forces cows to lie down slowly and using stainless steel for rear doors and legs, proven horizontal and solid steel rod construction. All this at a reasonable cost. Crate also can be installed on an angle.

CONFINEMENT STALL

Developed recently in our R&D farm. Our goals were convenience, safety and durability. The low back and flat top rails are easy to reach over with no sharp edges. Stainless steel rear legs and front feet along with solid steel horizontal rods through punched uprights provide the strongest, most durable stall ever produced by Tri-County (21"-24" O.C. x 86")

NURSERY PENNING

Nursery penning has been improved by the use of an optional solid stainless steel panel on the front gates which keeps walkways clean. Stainless steel verticals on penning eliminates corrosion where penning attaches to the floor. Stainless steel drinker pipes & mounting brackets also increase durability.

FINISHING PENNING

Optional stainless steel verticals and fasteners offer improved durability over other similar types of penning. Loop and Rapper latch arrangement eliminates the use of drop pins. Stainless steel fence line feeders provide excellent durability and a minimum of waste.

DAYCO SUPER II V-BELTS

Now there's a belt that beats the toughest drive problems.

Innovative design & construction provide extra strength and stamina

Test the Super II v-belt on your toughest drive

Many heavy-duty industrial machines demand more than conventional wrapped v-belts can stand. Their punishing drives make ordinary belts crack under pressure. The result: unnecessary and expensive downtime.

Now there's a solution to the consistent costly problem of replacing or retensioning belts. It's the revolutionary new Super II v-belt from Dayco. The Super II belt was designed specifically for the most brutal applications. And its performance blows the cover off conventional wrapped belts.

In heavy torque, high horsepower and extreme shock load comparisons, it's not even a contest. The Super II v-belt is stronger, more flexible, and lasts far longer.

The secret to the Super II v-belt's durability is its unique construction. The central portion of the polyester cords in the neoprene rubber core provides greater strength, balance and longer life. Multiple fabric plies top and bottom enhance flexibility. And Dayco's unique raw-edged construction gives it a better grip for controlled slippage.

These attributes combined make the Super II belt superior to conventional wrapped belts in every way.

The Super II v-belt was field-tested for two years on the most severe applications: rock quarry shaker screens, lumber mill tree debarkers, and pipe descalers. In every case, it outperformed conventional wrapped belts by a wide margin. But the only test that really counts is the one you do on your own equipment.

Try the Super II belt on your toughest drive problem. You'll be so amazed by its incredible endurance that you'll want to put it on all your drives. In fact, we're so sure you'll be pleased with the performance of the Super II v-belt that in the unlikely event you're not satisfied, we'll refund the original purchase price, or replace it with a conventional wrapped v-belt.

The Super II v-belt from Dayco. The super problem solver.

Dayco's unique raw-edged belt sidewalls grip pulleys better, minimizing belt slip, noise and drive vibration.

Hi-modulus polyester cord located in the belt mid section is specially treated to maintain extreme belt loads & shock without stretching.

Special 100% neoprene rubber compound supports cord more evenly top and bottom, dissipates heat more evenly and provides more oil, heat and ozone resistance.

Multiple fabric plies relieve stress on the load-carrying center cord, allow greater flexibility. A belt has three plies top and bottom. B belts have four and C belts have five.

records levels in the next nine months, but the egg industry will suffer economical losses primarily because "there is no home for old fowl." Because processing plants are no longer interested in purchasing spent fowl, it will become expensive for producers to dispose of the fowl.

ABC news correspondent Shellah Kast explained business and economic news from the political perspective. She spoke of the need to look at the whole picture, which she admitted was difficult to do, by merely skimming the news.

The goal of each political party is to manipulate the television news media by feeding them with stories, quotes, pictures, and sounds that the want the public to hear.

The concept is to give them (the news media) enough information so they won't go digging for other stories.

In the battle to keep television viewers from flicking the remote control switch, the news keeps things short and simple. The push toward brevity affects news coverage.

The simplest way to keep the audience's attention is to present drama and conflict into the story. According to Kast, this results in more coverage of conflict rather than the actual content of news such as the introduction of a bill to Congress.

"Non-controversial subjects receive little coverage," she said.

While Kast believes that the press is partially responsible for the way news is reported, she said that little can be done to change it.

"I wish I could solve the problem, but it's not that simple," she said. While presenting the details of each proposed bill would be the ideal way to form opinions, it won't happen because people are too pressed for time.

"Be skeptical," she advised, "but at the same time not too cynical. Keep your eye on the big picture."

Additional workshops were offered on rodent control, controlling darkling beetles and flies, broiler and turkey management, and environmental proposals.

Exhibit hall displays showed the latest in technology, poultry services, and products.

For his work in helping the egg industry reduce Salmonella Enteritidis, Dr. John Mason, center, receives an appreciation plaque from Dr. John Hoffman, executive director of the Pa. Poultry Federation, and Dr. Mac McLaurin, right, of the Egg Association.

Dr. Ed Mallinson, left, spoke on biosecurity and John Pederson talked about the commodity price outlook at the Northeast Poultry Show.

Dr. Charles Petty tells the audience at the Northeast Poultry Show how to climb the ladder of success and take your family with you.

ABC News Correspondent Shellah Kast talks with Dr. John Hoffman of the Pa. Poultry Federation about her speech.

Antique Tractor Pull Featured At Festival

SUMMIT STATION (Schuylkill Co.) — An antique tractor pull will be part of the 1994 Schuylkill County Fall Festival to be held at the fairgrounds on Saturday and Sunday, October 8-9. Starting time is 8 a.m. both days.

Curt Luckenbill, one of the people running the festival said the antique tractor pull to be held on Saturday at 3 p.m. is just for fun and no prize money will be awarded.

In addition, they have a gas engine and equipment show at the festival. And craft items and demonstrations of cider and apple butter making will be featured.

The fairgrounds are located along route 895 just east of Summit Station. Everyone is invited to attend.

Joel Fahnestock is driving Curt Luckenbill's 1939 John Deere G, one of the tractors, that will be at the antique tractor pull.

Bollinger Siblings Sweep

LOU ANN GOOD

Lancaster Farming Staff
NEW HOLLAND (Lancaster Co.) — With their market lambs, Bollinger siblings swept the New Holland sheep show, winning both champion and reserve titles.

It was the first champion market lamb win for Derick Bollinger, who showed the 125-pound heavyweight champion. His sister Tracy won with the middle weight champion.

It may have been a bit confusing to the crowd, because the middle weight champion was shown by another sister Amy because Tracy was interviewing for Farm Show Queen at Manheim. The results of the Farm Show contest won't be revealed until next week when the Manheim Farm Show begins.

The three siblings of Eugene and Carol Bollinger of Manheim each have several sheep that they raise for county and state competitions.

The seasoned sheep exhibitors have accumulated ribbons and trophies for their sheep and swine with the most recent being Amy's reserve champion market lamb title at last week's Ephrata show. Sheep are conditioned by putting them through daily jumps.

In the breeding sheep competition, Jessica Stoltzfus took the grand champion breeding sheep trophy with her Dorset ewe and Jerry Bollinger showed the reserve with his Suffolk ram. Both Stoltzfus and Bollinger took similar titles recently at Denver and Ephrata, respectively, with other sheep. Jerry is a cousin to the Bollingers who swept the market lamb titles. The 19-year-old said that the reserve is a 7-month-old February lamb.

Judge Greg Snyder, a former breeder from Lancaster, said that he liked Jerry's real straight, long lamb but the straightness and styliness of the Dorset ewe that is structurally square out of her dock was his pick for champion.

The champion Dorset is one of the flock of Dorsets that Jessica raises on the family's Elizabethtown farm.

"In my eyes, this is my best sheep," Jessica said of the champion named Penny, a previous winner at the 4-H Roundup.

Jessica's parents are Frank and Irene. Jessica's brother Jason also had his moment in the spotlight during the Wednesday afternoon show when he took top showmanship and fitting honors in the competition with those who have four or more years of showing.

The 17-year-old had achieved this feat at other county fairs but it was his first showmanship trophy at New Holland.

In the showmanship competition for exhibitors with two to three years experience, Holly Hoover clinched the competition. The 9-year-old daughter of Lois and Marty Hoover of Denver had also won the showmanship trophy at Elizabethtown. She used another sheep for that fair proving that her consistent win is in her touch not in her sheep. The family, which includes two sisters and one brother, raise about 40 sheep on their farm.

The first-year showmanship trophy went to Jennifer Zimmerman, 12-year-old daughter of Jay and Joann Zimmerman of Akron. Jennifer and her two brothers keep their sheep at their aunt's farm in Annville. Jennifer also won the trophy in the same competition at Denver.

"Watch the judge. That's the secret," said Jennifer, who was lauded by the judge for being smooth and calm in handling sheep.

Eastern National Holstein Sale Has $7,000 Top

EVERETT NEWSWANGER
Managing Editor

The Eastern National Holstein Sale offered a group of 45 head of cattle with many outstanding pedigrees. The sale staff of Bill Allen, Horace Backus, Bill Nichol, Dave Rama, Ken Raney, and Mike Weimer put together a sale worthy of the name.

The top-selling animal was the first heifer in the ring. Tidy Brook Sienna-ET, a March 21 heifer from Mark & Alan Myers, Greencastle, sold to Jed and E. Wayne Bayshore, New Cumberland, for $7,000. The Mark Adam daughter out of Elton Steph with plus 121p and at least six maternal sisters with outstanding type and production got the sale off and running at top level.

The second high-selling consignment was the beautiful excellent show cow from Mike and Cindy Weimer's Solid Gold Holsteins at Emlenton. This grand champion at the Central Pennsylvania Championship Show earlier this year sold to U.S. Superior Genetics in Wisconsin for $6,900.

The sale total was $138,000 with an average of $3,018 on 45 head.

Tidy-Brook Sienna-ET, catalogue number one, was the first animal in the sale ring and topped the sale at $7,000.

LAMPETER (Lancaster Co.) — The beautiful cow that won supreme champion honors for the past two years at the Lampeter Fair dairy show, won again. Shown by 12 year-old Austin Thomas, the mature cow continues to catch the eye of people who know cows and was the grand champion of the Holstein show.

The reserve grand champion of

In the Jersey breed, Jim Findley had both animals in the show, a junior yearling and an aged cow, to take the championships.

Scott Wagner had the only Brown Swiss, a junior two-year-

Quality Lambs Make Show Champions At Lampeter

ANDY ANDREWS

Lancaster Farming Staff

LAMPETER (Lancaster Co.)

— What goes into winning a sheep championship?

Ask Greg Hess, who picked up champion FFA sale lamb on Wednesday at the West Lampeter Fair. "Buying quality lambs" is the reason Greg gave to taking home the trophy for "Cleo," his light heavy-weight Suffolk spring lamb at the sheep show.

The Suffolk is "a lamb that I think exhibits what we're looking for as far as style," said Melanie Horschler, show judge, who raises purebred Suffolks and Corriedales in Lebanon. Horschler, who judged last year's sheep show at the fair, praised the lamb for its "natural muscling from end to end."

Greg, 17, son of Elvin and Sue Hess, Conestoga, is a senior at Penn Manor and member of the Manor FFA. Greg purchased the lamb from Bill McCauley in Chester County.

4-H sale lamb was awarded to Lisa Reiff, 16, for her Suffolk March lamb, a wether. Lisa, 16, daughter of Lloyd and Laura Reiff, Conestoga, swept the sheep fitting and showmanship contests at the fair. She plans to show at the state farm show in January.

In all, there were a total of 35 sheep and 14 exhibitors at the fair. Following is a list of show placings.

USDA FmHA Administrator Visits Chambersburg Farm

CHAMBERSBURG (Franklin Co.) — Michael Dunn, administrator for the USDA Farmers Home Administration visited the Todd Stroup family farm near Chambersburg last week as part of the "Customer Service Day." The visit was arranged by the FmHA Franklin County office as part of the national effort to improve relations of the federal agency with people who use the service.

Dunn said "Our agencies are committed to improving service to our customers and establishing a culture that supports continuous improvement."

"Since mid-June, FmHA and the Rural Development Administration have asked 10,000 customers that include farmers, about their service. Each customer was asked to rate agencies' performance from 1-5 (5 being the best) based on 25 questions divided into six broad categories—reliability, responsiveness, assurance, understanding, corrective actions, office environment and overall rating. More than 75 percent of those surveyed responded.

"Borrowers agreed that FmHA and RDA employees are generally helpful, treat borrowers with dignity and respect, are friendly, polite and honest, and further, that they keep confidential financial information confidential. Borrowers were least satisfied in the areas over which local staffs have the least control.

"We're encouraged by what the survey says our customers think about our agencies," Dunn said. "Our customers say we have good people, which is the most important element in providing service."

Juniata Sets Conservation Field Day

THOMPSONTOWN (Juniata Co.) — Juniata County has set its conservation district field day at the Art Zug dairy farm here on Oct. 11 from 1 p.m.-4 p.m.

The field day will focus on advanced technology in liquid dairy and hog manure application.

Included will be discussions on nutrient management legislation, manure injection equipment demonstrations by equipment dealers, information on compaction, and a demonstration on hard hose irrigation reel and manure irrigation pump equipment.

For more information on the field day, contact Ann Harshbarger, Juniata County district manager, at (717) 436-6919.

SCRAPE, DIG, PULL, LOAD, MOW AND MORE

Estate owners, landscapers and farmers will appreciate the Kubota B-50 Series' wide choice of handy implements.

These include mid and rear mount mowers, front loaders, boxscrapers, backhoes, posthole diggers, snowblowers, even rotary tillers.

Kubota's remarkable B-50 Series compact tractors come with mid and 2-speed rear PTO. Optional Hydrostatic transmission. From 17-24 HP.

Kubota's optional "Bi-Speed Turn" system allows smaller and precise turns in 4-Wheel Drive, which makes mowing, and even loading more efficient.

Reverse air flow cooling directs radiator heat away from the operator for a comfortable, quiet ride. Low piston speed extends engine life.

The Kubota B-50 Series. Versatile compact tractors.

5-Year-Old Holstein Wins Pa. Fall Championship

VERNON ACHENBACH JR.
Lancaster Farming Staff
HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — A 5-year-old Holstein that was moved from the dry cow class to the milking class because she freshened since the owners sent in her show application was named grand champion of the Pennsylvania Holstein Association's Fall Championship Show, held Tuesday in the Large Arena of the state Farm Show Complex in Harrisburg.

Wind-Drift A-J Natema, owned jointly by Doug Beatty, Mark Campbell and Alex Claypool, of Enon Valley, is a Bridon Asto-Jet-Et daughter out of dam Wind-Drift Valient Nancy.

Judge of the show, Paul King, actually made his first and second place 5-year-olds the grand and reserve grand champions of the show, the culmination of earlier regional state shows.

The reserve grand champion was New Direction Jet Cameo, owned by Alan McCauley, who has New Direction Holsteins in Elizabethtown, where he is well known for his embryo transfer business.

McCauley's cow was also named best bred and owned of the show, and was second best udder to the grand champion in the class placing.

New Direction Holsteins also took first in the best-three cows group class and showed the best junior 3-year-old.

Meanwhile, the Beatty-Campbell syndicate showed the junior champion, a senior calf, Don-Ton Chaos Beauty. In fact, both the grand and junior champion animals were both bred by Don Eaton. They also showed the first place 4-year-old.

The reserve junior champion of the show also was a senior calf, Windy-Knoll View Prism, owned by Stro. Associates and LeRoy Plance, of L&J Holsteins, in Wellsboro. The calf is a Hanoverhill Starbuck daughter out of Windy-Knoll View Ultimate Pala, and was bred by James and Nina Burdette, of Mercersburg.

The Burdette family showed a number of top placing animals during the All-American week and had the first place entry in the class of best-three junior-age animals, while Kyle Burdette showed the youth division junior champion, Windy Knoll View RKB Petty, the best bred and owned of its class.

Amanda Cessna, of Everett, showed the reserve junior champion of the youth division, Brush-Creek VU Aider Secret.

The grand champion of the youth division was a senior 2-year-old owned by Danielle Sparling, of Troy. Her Maple-Flat Ares Rosie was also the best bred and owned of the youth division.

The reserve grand champion of the youth division was a 4-year-old shown by Lory Ann Baker, of Globe-Run Farm, in Petersburg. Her Globe-Run Top Gun Oslo, was also best bred and owned of the class.

During the annual fall championship show, the Pa. Holstein Association also holds its 3-year-old futurity class. This year's champion, out of a field of 11 finalists was Meadow-Vu Counselor Dixie, owned and bred by Robert and Rhodena Eckstine, of Mercersburg.

The second place futurity winner was shown by Robert Burdette, also an Ultimate Pala daughter.

The third place winner in the futurity was an entry by Steve and Chris Wood and Robert Gitt, owners of Penn Gate Holsteins in Littlestown. They also had a good show, being named premier breeder and exhibitor and showing the first place cow in the 100,000-pound production class, with 102,000 pounds of milk and a 305-day record started at 5 years, 7 months of 27,861 pounds milk.

Also, in connection with the show, there is the awarding of the George M. Knight Jr. Total Performance Award, which awarded to the owners of the cow that meets the highest standards overall based on a point system related to production and type.

This year's award winner was Meadow-Vu Counselor Dixie, shown by Robert and Rhodena Eckstine, of Mercersburg.

The 1,312-pound reserve champion heavyweight, exhibited by Phillip Baer, Glenville, sold to Ray L. Myers Construction, Inc., with a bid of $1.05. Reserve champion lightweight, the 1,237-pounder exhibited by Kelly Myers, Thomasville, sold on a $1.25 bid to Wildasin Bedliners.

Farmers' Bank and Trust, Hanover, purchased Sara Hoke's reserve champion medium weight, bidding $1.15 for the Glenville 4-H's 1,139-pound champion medium weight, bidding $1.15 for the Glenville 4-H's 1,139-pound steer. A 95-cent bid from Glatfelter Agribusiness Insurance purchased the 1,042-pound reserve champion lightweight from exhibitor Tammi Grubb, Hanover.

Average sale price on the steers with the champion was $1 per pound, and without the champion, 89 cents per pound.

Several other special purchases were made and then donated back for 4-H activities. A hog shown by Kelly Myers was purchased by Hoss's Steak and Sea House and given back for resale benefitting the meats judging team. East Berlin Pharmacy bought and turned back for resale a lamb sold by Shanna Daugherty.

Dr. Gerry Stinson purchased two lambs to donate back for the meats judging team benefit, one each from sisters Cindy and Buffy Dehoff. A second lamb of Buffy Dehoff's was purchased by Rishel's Landscaping Service and donated to benefit the 4-H exhibition area. Waltemyer's John Deere Sales and Service purchased a lamb sold by Tabitha Ebersole and donated it back to be used for the county 4-H lamb club annual banquet.

Nearly $60,000 was generated by the junior livestock sale, benefitting participating junior exhibitors and various York County 4-H and junior livestock educational events and activities.

Martins Compete For Top Hog At Lampeter Swine Show

ANDY ANDREWS

Lancaster Farming Staff
LAMPETER (Lancaster Co.)
— Hog selection, feeding, walking — those factors contributed in a big way toward granting Kurt Martin the grand champion FFA market swine trophy on Wednesday afternoon at the West Lampeter Community Fair.

Kurt, 15, son of Bob and Marilyn Martin, Strasburg, walked his hog, a 254-pound Hampshire/Yorkshire cross, to heavyweight champion and to supreme champion. The Blue Butt gilt was obtained from the Frank Feeser herd in Tannytown, Md.

Kurt said feeding the hog a 16 percent protein and a lot of walking contributed to garnering the championship.

Kurt competed against strong competition — his brother Keith, 18, showed the medium and light heavyweight champions. Kurt is a sophomore at Lancaster Mennonite High School and Hans Herr FFA member.

Judge Jim Parlett, Duroc and Chester White swine breeder from Airville, said the champion hog looked "really sound, really lean."

Parlett chose the hog shown by 4-H member Crystal Charles, 14, daughter of Cliff and Nancy Charles, Millersville, as reserve. Parlett picked the 246-pound York crossbred shown by Crystal.

Also, Neil Fellenbaum was chosen junior champion showman and Jason Reifsnyder was chosen senior showman. Both are Manor FFA members.

Following is a list of show placings.

Samson, Goliath Battle For Steer Championship

ANDY ANDREWS
Lancaster Farming Staff

LAMPETER (Lancaster Co.)
— Jay Hess named his supreme champion FFA steer "Goliath" simply "because he's really big — 1,440 pounds."

Jay, 19, son of Abe and Janine Hess, Conestoga, a graduate of Penn Manor and Manor FFA member, plans to show at the Farm Show in January.

Judge Lori Voight, 4-H leader from Lebanon, chose the 4-H steer, "Samson," shown by Dale Livengood as 4-H champion market steer. Dale, 16, the son of Earl and Joyce Livengood, Lancaster, showed his 1,322-pound Angus/Maine Anjou cross. Dale, a sophomore at Faith Mennonite, plans to show at the Farm show in January. This is his seventh year in 4-H.

In all, there were about 10 steers and the same number of exhibitors. Following is a list of show placings.

Knob View Wins At Frederick Holstein Show

awarded to four cows that have freshened, all owned by the same exhibitor, was captured by Roscoe and Mary Ann Harbaugh, Har-Land Manor. Har-Land Manor also cleaned up in the Produce of Dam class, with the two-year-old Masal Spirit Success-Red and her dry cow mother. It was a good day for Spirit; she also brought home the blue in the Four-Year-Old and the Dam and Daughter categories, and judged on udder alone.

In the junior heifer calf class, O-C-S Dairy won the blue ribbon for O-C-S Dairy Phil Ashley, an Astro-Jet daughter. Second place went to Knob View Holsteins' Knob View Inspiration Kit, and in third place was DLL Leigh Milton Rebecca, owned by Mike and Elizabeth Doody.

The intermediate heifer calf class was won by Jody Bell with WVA Greystone Raider Josie, followed by C Dougridge Broker-Shannon owned by Donald Lentzner, Jr. in second. Third place went to Knob-View Holsteins for Knob-View Aerostar, Susie.

Senior heifer calf was Tri-Day Encore Imelda, owned by Darren Ramsburg. Mike and Elizabeth Doody had the second place winner with Old Line Mel Lynn-ET, while Len-Land Acres' Len-Land Acres Tab Mabel came in third.

Summer yearling heifer top award went to Remcrest Skybuck Phoenix, owned by Darren Ramsburg. Second place was awarded to Dollyhide Helios Sly, owned by Brian Rice. Third place winner was Dool Leigh Quest, owned by Mike and Elizabeth Doody.

Knob-View Holsteins gathered the top two awards for junior yearling heifer. In first place was Knob-View Raider Dora; in second, Knob-View Inspiration Kim. Rounding out the category was third place winner Casey Flook with her heifer Flo-Look Stylist Jen Lee.

Knob-View Holsteins took home yet another blue for the intermediate yearling heifer Knob-View Logic Missy. Coming in second was Har-Land Manor Kar Prissy-Red, owned by Roscoe and Mary Anne Harbaugh, Kar-Land Manor farm. Third place went to CBM Leadman Wendy-ET, owned by Andrea Hood.

The final heifer class, senior yearling heifer, was won by the junior champion female Maryland-Garden-Spot Nick Betty, a heifer from Maryland-Garden-Spot farm. In second and third place, respectively, were Windrift Starb Melani, owned by Donald Lentzner, Jr.

PHH Coldsprings Inspire Bar was named best Cow, junior two-year-old. She is owned by Josh Grossnickle. Second place was awarded to Har-Land Manor Geo Susan-Red, owned by Har-Land Manor. In third place was Edrick Lincoln Boots, an entry from Donald Lentzner, Jr.

Senior two-year-old top place went to Potomac View Ned Vickie, owned by Millard Shafer. Knob View Eminent Jenny, Knob View Holsteins, took second place. Guy-Dell Fancy Paul Barbie, owned by Carena Guyton, rounded out the class in third.

Adding to the list of Knob View Holstein wins was a sweep of the three-year-old class. First, second, and third place were won by Knob View Counselor Patsy, Knob View Leadman Kim C, and Knob View Starbuck Dorreen.

Masal Spirit Success-Red, owned by Har-Land Manor, took the blue in (Turn to Page A39)

Swine Fitting Champion Also Picks Up Supreme Award At Reading

ANDY ANDREWS
Lancaster Farming Staff

READING (Berks Co.) — An exhibitor who showed grand champion fitting swine also picked up the trophy for supreme market hog last week at the Reading Fair.

The supreme champion, a Duroc cross gilt weighing 232 pounds, was shown by Corey Eschbach, 10, son of George and Kathy Stump, Shoemakersville. This is the first supreme championship for Corey, in the fifth grade at Fleetwood Elementary. This year, Corey also won champion swine at the Oley Fair.

Show judge Ken Winebark picked the middle weight champion hog shown by Corey over the champion heavyweight in tough competition. Winebark said that Corey's red/black spotted pig is a large and heavy pig that is still lean for its division. Tim Eschbach said the hog was obtained from ProGenetics/White Oak.

Winebark, Lebanon County extension agent, picked a purebred Hampshire gilt, weighing 255 pounds, shown by Jenny Rabenold as reserve. Jenny, 17, daughter of Carl and Brenda Rabenold, Kutztown, showed the hog from her family's herd. The gilt won the heavyweight division. Winebark commented that the hog "explodes in terms of overall shape and dress, with the most thickest, fullest, most dimensional ham" of any hog in the competition. Winebark said,

"It is a production kind of hog that has a lot of meat."

A senior at Kutztown High School, this is Jenny's first reserve championship at Reading. She plans to show at the county round-up in October and the state Farm Show in January.

Showmanship and fitting champions were also named. They are Corey Eschbach, champion fitter. Reserve fitter went to Cathy Levan. Champion showman went to Richard Kerper, Jr. Reserve was awarded to Brian Eschbach.

Following is a list of show placings.

After 7-Year Try, Exhibitor Wins Swine Trophy

ANDY ANDREWS
Lancaster Farming Staff

NEW HOLLAND (Lancaster Co.) — "I've been showing for seven years, and I've been waiting to win."

Scott Stoltzfus, holding the supreme champion market hog trophy, was being congratulated by his brothers and cousins for showing the New Holland Fair champion hog, a 264-pound Hampshire/Duroc gilt out of the heavyweight class.

This was the exhibitor's first championship after seven years of trying.

The Babcock Genetics hog was picked over the light heavyweight hog in close competition on Tuesday evening at the fair.

Ken Winebark, Lebanon extension agent and show judge, said the hog proved to be "a very useful kind of hog in all aspects of the industry" and had "a big old loin eye." The hog had the body and capacity and feet and legs to "get up and go."

Scott said the hog, named "Red Chief" by his cousins and three brothers, was "walked a lot." Scott, 15, son of Ken and Karen Stoltzfus, Gordonville, is a sophomore at Lancaster Mennonite High School.

Winebark said the light heavyweight, chosen as reserve overall, was a "good, workable kind of hog no matter what aspect of the industry you're in." The hog was shown by Bob Stewart, son of Larry and Del Stewart, Intercourse. The gilt, a Blue Butt, was shown by Bob, 14, who attends Pequea Valley. This is his first time showing at New Holland Fair.

Showmanship winners were, seniors, Cory Pfautz; juniors, Bob Stewart; and amateurs, Nathan Hoover.

In all, there were a total of 75 hogs and 25 exhibitors. Following is a list of show placings.

Sometimes You Need A Spreader Built Like A Tank.

When spreading stockpiled lime, for example. The Stoltzfus Wet Lime Spreader is likely the most powerful spreader of its kind on the market today. You see, we've been building them since 1945, and farmers are still using Stoltzfus Wet Lime Spreaders they've had for 20, even 30 years. Our special drag chain is 4 times stronger than stainless steel, and handles frozen and heavy stockpiled lime with ease. Plus, for spreading compost, composted sludge, poultry litter

- Two-ton, five-ton, eight-ton models
- PTO, 540 rpm or 1,000 rpm
- Two-speed conveyor chain
- Leaf spring suspension
- Dual 24" spinners
- Spreads 40' effectively
- One-sided spreading capability
- Truck-mounted models available and certain fertilizers, the WLS is without equal for sheer volume spreading. We call that performance. You'll call it terrific:

We hope you compare a Stoltzfus WLS with other spreaders. It makes us look even better. Price? Sure we may be a little more. But when you end up replacing cheaper units in a few short years, what have you saved? Stoltzfus quality always pays for itself many times over.

Just how tough is a Stoltzfus WLS? Plenty tough. Call today. We'll tell you where to find the dealer nearest you, and send you free literature to inspect.

Natalie Welch Becomes Pennsylvania Dairy Princess

LOU ANN GOOD

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.)

— Natalie Welch hobbled on stage. Dressed as an elderly woman, she soon shed her disguise to portray an expectant mother. By the evening's end, the 17-year-old donned a light green gown and a sparkling crown. But this time, there was no role playing involved.

For giving blue ribbon performances in a speech, a skit presentation, and answering an impromptu question, Natalie Dawn Welch topped the competition to become Pennsylvania's 38th Dairy Princess.

"Clothes change, attitudes change, and people change, but one thing doesn't change," Dawn said. "What you put into your body and mind now affects you later."

In her new job as spokesperson for the dairy industry, Dawn plans to spread the "milk message" across the state. "What you eat and drink now will decide whether or not you ride a wheelchair or a bicycle when you're 80 years old," she said.

The Somerset teen-ager was one of 31 county dairy princesses to compete for the state title on September 24 at Sheraton Inn-East, Harrisburg.

The two alternates who will assist Natalie with state promotion are First Alternate Rachel Tanis from Centre County and Second Alternate Melissa Bicksler from Berks County.

The pageant followed two days of judging. Each contestant needed to perform a skit presentation and a speech promoting the use of dairy products. Each also needed to compile a scrapbook detailing the promotional activities completed.

Two winners in each category were selected for awards. Natalie was the only contestant to clinch wins in both speech and presentation.

In addition to Natalie, the other outstanding speech recipient was Virginia Morningstar of Mercer County. Honorable mention went to Melissa Mellott of Franklin County and Farin Weltner of Beaver-Lawrence.

New York, New Jersey, and Maryland state dairy princesses join Pennsylvania royalty on stage.

One of the outstanding speech awards went to Virginia Morningstar, center. The Mercer countian's speech paid tribute to her father's many abilities as family man, vet, electrician, plumber, and more. She ended with "I am a farmer's daughter and I'm proud of it."

The other outstanding presentation was earned by Susan Pardo of Sullivan County. Honorable mention went to Kathryn Jarrett of Lycoming County and Amy Espenshade of Lancaster.

Outstanding scrapbook awards went to Shannon Semmel of Northampton-Lehigh and to Shannon Hoffman, SUN Area. Honorable mention was earned by Amy Espenshade, Lancaster, and by Rachel Tanis, Centre.

Contestants selected Jani Burke of Bradford County as the recipient of the Miss Congeniality Award.

After individual interviews with four judges, seven finalists were selected for the final round of competition. In addition to Natalie, the finalists included Larissa Mellot, Franklin County; Melissa Bicksler, Berks County; Shannon Semmel, Northampton/Lehigh Counties; Rachel Tanis, Centre County; Farin Weltner, Beaver-Lawrence counties; and Jayne Burke, Bradford County.

Each of the seven finalists needed to answer an impromptu question before the crowd of 600. The answers reflect the contestants ability to think quickly and to remain calm under pressure.

The question: The American school system is under a great deal of criticism recently. Do you feel it is justifiable and what suggestions would you offer to improve it?

Natalie answered that the question is very complex because the issues range from education to discipline. She believes that her own school district has a terrific educational system but test scores of American schools lag behind when compared with those in other countries. The lower test scores reflect the attitude of laziness, she said. It is no longer the American dream to build a future for one's self; instead people are content just to get a job.

Dairy princesses are trained to be knowledgeable and enthusiastic representatives of dairy promotion and advertising by speaking at both agricultural and non-agricultural events, handing out samples and recipes using dairy products, writing newspaper articles, and preparing messages for radio and television.

Anna Calhoun, who served as Indiana-Armstrong Dairy Princess for 1993-1994, received the Tina M. Shultz Memorial Award for being a dedicated, enthusiastic promoter who willingly went far beyond the requirements to further the image of the dairy industry. The award is given annually to the county dairy princess who is judged to have done the most outstanding job serving her county on behalf of the dairy industry. It is based on the number and types of promotional activities conducted.

Anna made 342 personal appearances and wrote 37 news articles. It is estimated that she contacted about 55,000 people in her 134 school promotions, 44 stores and malls, and attended 41 meetings. She distributed about 8,000 recipe brochures and 9,000 promotional items.

Anna is the daughter of William and Betty Calhoun of Dayton.

In other business, special tribute was paid to Mim Kauffman for the more than 20 years she served on the board and for the positive influence she had on the many people who worked with her and the county princesses she instructed in speech making and make-up.

In her farewell speech, retiring dairy princess Jennifer Grimes thanked her mother for being "a special lady," her dad, "for being proud," her brother, for clapping the loudest, her boyfriend, for sacrificing his life while she traveled all over the state, and her alternates, who deserved to wear her crown.

The new princess has plenty of hands-on experience in the dairy industry. With her parents, Connie and David Welch, she helps farm the family's 180-acre in Berlin. Natalie owns seven of the 30 head of Holsteins.

A senior at Berlin Brothersvalley High School, Natalie is a member of the National Honor Society, Student Council, and French Club.

(Turn to Page B5)

Members of the Pennsylvania Dairy Princess and Promotion Services Inc. board of directors include, seated from left, Wanda Yoder, secretary; Mim Kauffman, retiring chairperson; and Jan Harding, program director. Standing from left are Betty Reibson, assistant program director, and Beath Heald Moore, treasurer.

During the hospitality hour, guests examined the scrapbooks made by each princess.

CHIMTEK™

ADVANCED CHIMNEY TECHNOLOGY

SAFER: CHIMTEK is designed to withstand severe chimney fires without breaking or transmitting high temperatures to adjoining combustible materials.

LESS CREOSOTE: Wood smoke contains moisture (H₂O). When the smoke comes into contact with a surface under approx. 250 degrees F the water will condense to a liquid. This liquid combined with other products in wood smoke will result in creosote. Creosote can be very dangerous when it ignites. The inside of a CHIMTEK chimney stays much warmer and greatly reduces the amount of creosote formation. In many cases CHIMTEK chimneys are completely clean after years of use.

IMPROVES STOVE PERFORMANCE: The draft produced by a chimney is what pulls oxygen into the fire for combustion. The three main factors affecting draft are the chimney's height, size and temperature. CHIMTEK contains a great amount of a very special insulating material that is not affected by moisture saturation and will not seattle or deteriorate. Poor draft will result in poor combustion. Poor combustion will create more smoke. Smoke is wasted fuel. Newer EPA certified stoves are especially dependent on proper draft to perform properly.

A SURE SOLUTION TO MASONRY CHIMNEY PROBLEMS:

Outer casing of chimney; made of brick, stone, block, or other suitable masonry material.

CHIMTEK INNER LINER:

- Made of volcanic pumice and high-temperature refractory cements.
- Round shape provides even temperatures inside flue, and contributes to efficient flow of smoke and flue gases.
- Highly resistant to thermal shock.
- Even if cracks should occur, the round shape and Chimtek Secondary Liner prevent pieces from falling into chimney.
- The volcanic pumice in Chimtek liners adds considerable insulating value.

CHIMTEK SECONDARY LINER:

- Provides exceptional insulation to make chimney more efficient and reduce heat transfer to combustible materials.
- Provides structural support for inner liner.
- Will not absorb moisture or creosote.

Program director Jan Harding adopts Pennsylvania Dairy Princess Natalie Welch as her daughter for a year.

Dairy Princess

She is active in basketball and television production. She is president of her 4-H Club and Somerset County 4-H Council, and is treasurer of her county's Jr. Holstein Association.

In her spare time, Natalie enjoys sewing, skiing, basketball, reading, and gardening. She works part time at McDonald's in Somerset.

First Alternate Rachel Tanis is the daughter of Jake and Sally Tanis of Centre Hall. The family has a 250-acre farm where they milk 85 of 200 Holsteins and raise corn, alfalfa, and oats. She is a 19-year-old sophomore majoring in dairy and animal science and communications at Penn State.

In 1993, Rachel graduated from Penns Valley Area High School where she was yearbook senior editor, captain of track and field, treasurer of Art Honor Society, and a member of SADD. She participated in cheerleading, golf, and softball. She is vice president of the Pennsylvania Junior Holstein Association, a member of Mt. Nittany 4-H Dairy Club, and is a member of Centre County's dairy bowl and dairy judging teams.

Second Alternate Melissa

Bicksler is the daughter of Thomas and Cathy Bicksler of Myerstown. A 17-year-old senior at Tupehocken High School, Melissa is secretary of the FFA, on the field hockey team, and plays clarinet in the band. She participates in 4-H and shows cattle and riding horses. Melissa plans to study veterinary medicine at Penn State.

New Tastes In Pork

Fresh pork has shaped up and slimmed down so much in recent years that it's on the average 31 percent lower in fat, 14 percent lower in calories, and 10 percent lower in cholesterol than in 1983.

That makes fresh pork fit perfectly into any diet. Pork is what many nutritionists call a "nutrient-dense" food because it has a high ratio of nutrients to calories.

A 3-ounce serving of cooked lean pork has 198 calories; that's only 7 to 10 percent of the recommended calorie intake for adult men and women. On the other hand, pork is a complete protein containing all the essential amino acids and is a good source of zinc, iron, and B-vitamins, especially thiamin. There are so many different fresh and cured cuts, pork could actually be served seven days a week and provide great menu variety.

Try these recipes and discover how easy it is to enjoy pork in your diet.

HAM-WRAPPED PINEAPPLE SPEARS WITH HONEY-LIME DIP

20 spears fresh or canned pineapple, drained
20 wafer-thin slices smoked ham

1 cup light sour cream
3 tablespoons lime juice
3 tablespoons honey
½ teaspoon nutmeg

Wrap each pineapple spear with slice of ham. In small bowl, whisk together sour cream, lime juice, honey and nutmeg to make dip. Place bowl in center of serving tray and arrange ham-wrapped pineapple spears around dip.

CHEESY SAUSAGE STRATA

½ pound pork sausage
½ pound mozzarella cheese, grated
2 cups leftover bread cubes
4 eggs
1½ cups milk
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
½ teaspoon nutmeg

Grease a 10-inch deep-dish pie plate or a 9-inch square pan. In skillet, brown and crumble sausage, drain and set aside. Spread bread cubes over bottom of dish, top with sausage and grated cheese. Beat together remaining ingredients and pour over cheese and sausage. Bake at 350 degrees for 45 minutes, until lightly browned. Let stand 10 minutes before cutting. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

SAUSAGE-STUFFED PORK LOIN WITH APRICOT-MUSTARD GLAZE

4-5 pounds boneless pork loin, trimmed of fat

1 pound smoked pork sausage, wrapped tightly in foil and frozen
6 tablespoons apricot jam
2 tablespoons Dijon-style mustard

2 tablespoons soy sauce
2 tablespoons brown sugar
1 teaspoon crushed red chiles

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Insert long slicing knife into center of face of pork loin, piercing pork loin through center. Withdraw knife and insert knife into face of pork loin at an angle perpendicular to the first cut (creating an X in the face of pork loin).

Unwrap frozen smoked sausage; holding pork loin in one hand and sausage in other, force sausage into the pork loin through the X cut in the face of the loin. If sausage is longer than loin and protrudes out of end of loin, trim off excess sausage and discard.

Place sausage stuffed loin on rack in shallow pan. Roast in 350 degree oven for 45 minutes. Meanwhile, in small bowl stir together well the remaining ingredients for glaze. After loin has roasted for 45 minutes, pour glaze over pork and continue to roast for 15-20 minutes more, brushing pork occasionally with glaze mixture from bottom of pan. Roast pork to an internal temperature of 155-160 degrees.

Remove pork from oven; let rest 10 to 15 minutes before slicing to serve. Serves 20.

APPLE-SAUSAGE COFFEECAKE

4 sausage patties
2 large tart apples, peeled, cored, sliced ¼-inch thick
2 tablespoons brown sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 tablespoon butter
1½ cups pancake batter

Preheat oven to 450 degrees. In a large skillet, saute sausage until browned. Pour off any fat from skillet, add apple slices, sprinkle with sugar and cinnamon. Saute one to two minutes until apples just lose their crispness.

Place the butter in a well-seasoned 9-inch iron skillet and heat in preheated oven until bubbly and hot. Arrange the sausage patties in the pan, cover with apples, distributing evenly.

Pour the batter over the apples and bake until nicely browned, about 8 to 10 minutes. Cut into pie-shaped wedges and serve immediately. Serves 6 to 8.

Chilly days are just right for a traditional pork roast. Try a special glaze, sauce or relish to add flavor — not fat — to boneless pork loin.

LEMON-MARMALADE CHOPS

Heat heavy skillet over medium-high heat; brush with a little oil. Sprinkle lemon pepper on both sides of 4 boneless pork loin chops, 1-inch thick.

Add chops to heated skillet and panbroil about 5 minutes per side. Remove chops from pan; keep warm.

Carefully add 2 tablespoons cider vinegar and 4 tablespoons lemon marmalade to pan, stirring and scraping up any brown bits. Pour pan sauce over chops to serve. Serves 4.

Nat. Pork Producers Council

PORK MEATBALLS STROGANOFF

1 pound lean ground pork
½ cup soft bread crumbs
1 egg, beaten
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons vegetable oil
8 ounces fresh mushrooms, cut into quarters
1 small onion, chopped
1 tablespoon all-purpose flour
½ cup water
½ cup dairy sour cream
Hot cooked noodles
Snipped parsley, optional

In a mixing bowl, combine ground pork, bread crumbs, egg, salt and pepper; mix well. Shape into 12 meatballs. In a large skillet; brown meatballs in hot oil; remove. Pour off pan drippings, reserving 2 tablespoons in skillet. Cook mushrooms and onion in drippings until tender, about 3 minutes. Add flour; cook and stir for 1 to 2 minutes or until thickened and bubbly. Stir in water. Return meatballs to skillet. Simmer, covered, 20 minutes. Remove from heat; stir in sour cream. Serve over hot cooked noodles. Sprinkle with parsley, if desired. Servings 4.

Natalie Dawn Welch was selected from 31 county dairy princesses to become the 38th Pennsylvania Dairy Princess.

The main duty of dairy princesses is to educate people about the importance of including dairy products in their diets.

Dairy products are the best natural source of calcium — far better than supplements that lack riboflavin, potassium, and vitamin D, which are necessary for the assimilation of calcium.

The princesses take this message to schools, stores, fairs, and other public functions where they often hand out dairy products. They also appear on radio and television programs and write newspaper articles in support of the industry.

Read about the pageant and the newly-crowned state princess in a feature story in this section. Below is one of Natalie's favorite recipes.

A collection of Royal Recipes, one from each of the 31 dairy princesses is available from your county dairy princess. Contact her or Pennsylvania Dairy Princess and Promotion Services, Inc., 214 South Street, Box 640, Clarion, PA 16214.

MUSHROOM APPETIZERS

8 ounces cream cheese
1 tablespoon bacon bit
1 teaspoon chives
20 large mushrooms

Mix together all ingredients except mushrooms. Remove the tops from the mushrooms. Fill the tops with mixture. Broil for 3 to 5 minutes. Serves 20.

On being a farm wife -And other hazards

Joyce Bupp

We've all seen the setting.

In the distance are purplish-colored hills, rising above rolling, grassy pastureland. Clouds of puffy white float through the deep-blue sky.

And dust begins to rise across this pastoral scene.

Then the TV or movie camera pans to the side, where a herd of spotlessly clean reddish-brown and white Hereford cattle—or maybe picturesque Longhorns—comes loping around a hillside. Flanking the streaming herd of bawling cows and calves is the most romantic symbol of the old West.

Cowboys. Sitting tall in their saddles, astride beautiful, muscular horses of chestnut brown, palomino gold or striking pintos of black and white. Cowboys who rarely lose their broad-brimmed hats—who gracefully switch directions on a dime to nudge along the independent-spirited cow lagging behind—who effortlessly lob a lasso that falls in place the first time on the neck of the errant calf headed for trouble.

Cowboys. We'd all like to be one.

There are still real working cowboys who do all that on real working ranches. And not only in the West, but on some places here closer in the East. And a popular vacation for some adventurous folks is to go spend several days on a working ranch geared to such visitors, where for the cost of room, board and a dependable horse, you can help with the roundups. Saddle sores are just part of the experience.

We have our own resident cowboy. Of sorts. He nearly ran over me a few nights ago headed out for the roundup.

Leaning over to wash and prep a cow for milking, I quickly pulled back into safety the part of me that was slightly protruding out into the center-alley of the barn, as he barreled by on his steed. A breeze stirred in his wake and bits of sawdust, flung into the air by his passage, settled back onto the floor.

There were four new baby calves scattered around the maternity pasture. Earlier, we'd herded their mamas in for their first trip through the milking procedure after calving. With mothers settled into the milking herd, now the babies would be moved to the safety of the calf nursery.

Momentarily, he returned with the first black and white baby. No herding on foot for these day-old calves. This little heifer calmly lay across his lap, back legs folded under her, forelegs extended. Her head was up, ears perked and eyes wide, seeming to enjoy the trip in from the meadow on the three-wheeler.

Not all calves are so cooperative about being rounded up in our resident-cowboy, three-wheeler style. Often they squirm and wiggle, creating difficulty with holding the calf while also steering the "horse." Some protest-vocally and loud. On occasion, one will escape and run away like a deer. Once in awhile, a nervous one will leave our cowboy with a slightly wet lap.

But retrieving calves is just one of the many uses we make for our three-wheeled horse, one of the hardest-used pieces of equipment on the place. It's invaluable for real roundup work, when the cows knock over a gate or the heifers discover that a rainstorm has shorted out the electric fence and they are free, free, free to go "explore."

This mount is handy for jumping on to ride to the fields to check hay or emerging stands of corn, to repair breakdowns, haul tools, move bags of feed and bales of hay. You never have to stop before an urgent heifer roundup to fasten a saddle or brush it down after a late-night maternity pasture check. And, frankly, a flat tire is more easily replaced than a lame foot.

On the other hand, how many horseback cowboys have to fight spider colonies homesteading within the front-end steering mechanism?

Plants Need Less Water

Here's some good news for weary summer waterers: Plants probably aren't as thirsty as they used to be.

Plants need carbon dioxide (CO₂) to grow. It acts on them just like a fertilizer. To get CO₂ from the atmosphere, plants open tiny holes called stomates in their leaves. These same openings let water escape from the plant.

But today's higher atmospheric CO₂ levels mean the plants don't have to open their stomates quite so wide, so less water is wasted, according to U.S. Department of Agriculture scientist Herman S. Mayeux Jr.

Mayeux and co-workers are finding this in experiments, growing plants in varying CO₂ levels. They range from the approximately 200 parts per million (ppm) of the Ice Age to today's approximately 360 ppm and the 700 to 1,000 ppm expected in the future.

In one test, the researchers planted a rangeland brush species called acacia in rooms where CO₂ levels were 350, 700 or 1,000 ppm. The acacia in 1,000 ppm of CO₂ grew nearly five times as much as the plant in 350 ppm—but it used no more water than the 350 ppm plant.

In another experiment, Mayeux and colleagues Hyrum B. Johnson and H. Wayne Polley grew wheat in a specially constructed growth chamber in which flowing air's CO₂ content gradually decline from 350 ppm to 200 ppm.

"At the 200 ppm like that of the Ice Age, the plants did very poorly and required twice as much water to grow the same amount of forage or grain," Polley said. "As CO₂ increased from the Ice Age levels to modern levels, the wheat's seed yield tripled."

Johnson said plant's more efficient use of water in higher CO₂ could explain how brush has spread across the American range. Photographs of Western rangeland in the 1800s show much less brushy vegetation than is present today.

"Carbon dioxide levels a hundred years ago were about 280 parts per million," Johnson pointed out. "The rising CO₂ levels over the past century have meant that plants could proliferate on part of the range that formerly was too dry." (Agricultural Research Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture)

ANSWER — D. Huber, Lititz, wanted a recipe for tomato jam or jelly. Thanks to Mrs. Kenneth Wenger, Elizabethtown, and Vera Kurtz, Stevens, for sending recipes.

Yellow Tomato Jelly

1 pound yellow tomatoes, peeled, chopped
 ¾ pound sugar
 ¼ lemon
 3-ounce package lemon Jell-O
 Peel tomatoes and chop. Add sugar and let set one hour. Add thinly sliced lemon and rind. Cook mixture until tomatoes are clear; add Jell-O. Stir and pour into jars and seal.

Green Tomato Jam

4 cups blended green tomatoes
 4 cups sugar
 2 tablespoons lemon juice
 6-ounces raspberry Jell-O
 Cook first three ingredients to a rolling boil, stirring a few times. Reduce heat to low and boil 20 minutes. Remove from heat; add Jell-O very slowly, stirring constantly. Pour mixture into jars and seal. Note: Mixture will be very thin before adding Jell-O.

Tomato Jelly

Peel, chop, and place in saucepan:
 3 cups tomatoes
 Add:
 1½ tablespoons lemon rind
 ¼ cup lemon juice
 Bring mixture to boil for 10 minutes. Add:
 6 cups sugar
 1 package dry fruit pectin
 Boil one minute. Stir in dash of ginger. Skim off foam. Seal in boiling water bath for 5 minutes.

ANSWER — G. Minckler wanted a recipe for appy bread. Thanks to Anita Moyer, Bernville, who sent a recipe called A.P. Cakes. She thinks this recipe, which came from her husband's grandmother, is the one Minckler wants. Thanks also to Sandy Wasko, Coatesville, for sending a recipe called Apea Cake, which also makes three 8-inch coffee cakes. She writes that she has no idea where the name came from but a diner near Reading serves the it.

A. P. Cakes

4 cups flour
 2 cups brown sugar
 ½ cup butter
 1 tablespoon vinegar in a cup and fill with milk
 2 teaspoons baking powder
 ½ teaspoon baking soda
 1 egg
 Use butter at room temperature. Put together ingredients and stir well. Spread mixture into four greased 8-inch pans and sprinkle tops with granulated sugar. Bake at 375 degrees for 25 minutes or until done.

Apea Cakes

1 cup shortening
 1 cup thick sour cream
 4 cups flour
 2 cups dark brown sugar
 1 teaspoon salt
 1 teaspoon baking soda
 1 egg, optional
 Mix together all ingredients. Divide into three 8-inch greased pie plates. Bake at 350 degrees for 35 to 40 minutes.

ANSWER — Audrey Ridinger, Biglerville, wanted a recipe for watermelon jam or jelly. Thanks to Mrs. Kenneth Wenger, Elizabethtown, for sending a recipe. She said the jelly has a pretty color and tastes great.

Watermelon Jelly

4 cups watermelon (including juice) seeded and mashed ¼ cup lemon juice
 ¼ teaspoon ground ginger
 1 package dry fruit pectin
 Bring to a boil, stirring constantly. Quickly add:
 5½ cups sugar
 Boil one minute. Fill jars and seal.

ANSWER — Mary Haug, Stewartstown, wanted a recipe for candy apples. Thanks to Helen Kraybill, Elverson, for sending a recipe.

Candied Apples

10 to 12 medium red apples
 10 to 12 wooden skewers, sharpened on one end
 2 cups sugar
 1 cup light corn syrup or Karo
 ½ cup water
 2 teaspoons cinnamon
 ½ teaspoon red coloring
 Wash apples and insert skewers. Combine Karo syrup, sugar, water, cinnamon, and red coloring. Boil carefully, stirring gently until syrup reaches 280 degrees. Use a candy thermometer to confirm temperature. Hold syrup to one side of kettle and quickly twirl apple, hold apple until it drips a bit. Place on waxed paper on tray. Be careful. Syrup is very hot.

HAM LOAF

1 pound ground ham
 1 pound ground fresh pork
 1 cup bread crumbs
 1 egg
 ¼ cup milk
 Mix together ingredients and form into loaf. Place into a loaf pan.
 Sauce:
 1 cup brown sugar
 ½ cup vinegar
 1 teaspoon mustard
 ¼ cup pineapple juice
 ¼ cup water
 Mix sauce and pour half over ham loaf. Bake at 450 degrees for 30 minutes. Reduce heat to 350 degrees and bake for one hour. Baste often with remaining sauce.

LEMON-HONEY PORK CHOPS

2 4-ounce pork loin chops
 ¼ teaspoon salt
 ¼ teaspoon pepper
 2 tablespoons water
 3 tablespoons honey
 ¼ teaspoon grated lemon peel
 1 tablespoon lemon juice
 Parsley flakes
 1 small clove garlic, finely chopped
 1 teaspoon cornstarch
 1 tablespoon cold water
 2 thin slices lemon
 Place chops in 8x8x2-inch dish. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Mix 2 tablespoons water with honey, lemon peel, and lemon juice. Mix in garlic and parsley. Pour over pork. Cover with plastic wrap and microwave on 50% power for 5 minutes. Continue microwaving until pork is done (about 12 to 15 minutes) rotating dish ¼ turn every 3 minutes.
 Remove pork to warm plate. Mix in cornstarch and 1 tablespoon water. Stir mixture in dish. Cover tightly and microwave until mixture thickens, about 2 minutes.
 Spoon sauce over pork. Garnish with lemon slices. Good served with rice.

PORK CHOP SCALLOP

6-8 pork chops
 1 teaspoon salt
 2 cups water
 1 cup carrots, thinly sliced
 10-ounce package frozen Italian green beans
 2 tablespoons butter
 1 package (5.5 ounces) scalloped potatoes
 1 can condensed cream of celery or mushroom soup
 ½ cup milk
 ¼ teaspoon dried basil leaves
 ½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
 Heat oven to 350 degrees. Trim excess fat from chops. Brown chops on both sides in a hot skillet with a little oil added. Sprinkle with salt. Heat water to boiling in 3-quart saucepan. Add carrots and frozen beans. Heat to boiling. Stir in butter, potato slices, and sauce mix from scalloped potatoes package. Mix soup, milk, basil leaves and Worcestershire sauce. Stir into vegetable mixture. Pour into ungreased baking dish. Place chops on top. Cover and bake 45 minutes. Uncover and bake until pork is tender for 10 to 15 minutes. Let stand 5 minutes before serving.

AUTOFLOWTM MILKING STALLS

With Non-Stop Cow Traffic

Using less stalls at maximum efficiency lowers the total cost of your automation and improves labor efficiency. Comparison shows it takes as much as 50% fewer AutoFlow stalls to achieve the same throughput as with similarly automated herringbone and parallel systems.

As milking equipment becomes more sophisticated and more expensive, the investment per stall becomes an important factor. The Surge AutoFlow parlor maximizes efficiencies per stall without sacrificing cow throughput.

Cook's Question

ANSWER — A Mt. Joy reader wanted a recipe for Oven French Toast. Thanks to Eleanor Martenas, Millville; Judith Zimmerman, Lebanon; Ethel Barnes, Manheim; and others for sending recipes.

Baked French Toast

1½ cups skim milk
4 large eggs
½ teaspoon cinnamon
4 tablespoons honey
3 tablespoons brown sugar
2 tablespoons butter, melted
Bread

Dip bread into egg and milk mixture. Arrange in shallow baking dish. Drizzle honey and butter over top. Sprinkle with brown sugar and cinnamon. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes.

Oven French Toast

6 slices bread
3 eggs
¾ cup milk
1 tablespoon sugar
2 tablespoons butter
¼ teaspoon salt

Heat oven to 400 degrees. Beat eggs, milk, sugar, and salt until fluffy. Dip bread into egg mixture and arrange on a buttered baking sheet. Bake 8 minutes on each side.

Oven French Toast

12-ounce loaf Italian or French bread
4 eggs
3 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
Confectioners' sugar

About 45 minutes before serving, cut bread crosswise into 16 slices. Arrange bread in 15½ x 10½ -inch jelly roll pan; overlap slices if necessary. In large bowl, beat eggs with sugar, vanilla, nutmeg, and confectioners' sugar.

Pour mixture over bread in pan, turning pieces until all mixture is absorbed. Preheat oven to 500 degrees. Grease two large cookie sheets, place bread slices on cookie sheets. Bake 8 to 10 minutes on each side or until golden brown. Sprinkle with confectioners' sugar.

Something For Every Age At Ephrata Fair

LOU ANN GOOD
Lancaster Farming Staff
EPHRATA (Lancaster Co.) — Whether it's chasing a pig, watching the parade, showing a sheep, dressing a calf or riding a tractor, kids of all ages found plenty to do at the Ephrata Fair last week.

Tuesday through Saturday was packed with special events, but kids don't need planned activities to enjoy the sights and sounds of the fair.

Here are some pictures that offer a glimpse of life at Ephrata Fair.

There are still a few fairs across the state that will be held in the next few weeks. Here is a listing of the several remaining fairs that you might want to attend. Manheim Farm Show and Hollidaysburg Community Fair will be held October 3 to 7. Unionville Community Fair will be held the following week. The fair season ends with Dillsburg Fair on October 18.

Kid's Korner

Feed your cows with Pequea's portable bunk feeders and round bale movers

Models 510S, 515E, 520, 520H, 525 & 530T Bunk Feeders

Here's a better way to feed your herd! With the Pequea portable bunk feeder, you'll save time — save money. Load it up with silage, haylage, round or square bales or any mixture of grain and forage. Tow it into the field, and feed up to 52 head of cattle at once.

With Pequea's efficient slant-bar system cows can't push each other away from feeding spaces, so you have less feed loss from spills. Convenient low tank height accommodates any size cow.

You can save wear and tear on your pasture and they eliminate heavily trampled spots. Just move it to a new location each day.

The New 520H cattle head gate bunk feeder (below) is the modern answer for holding cattle during breeding, veterinarian, or testing purposes.

Top Fleeces Result From Novice's Research

DILLSBURG (Dauphin Co.)—Some might suggest that Jo-Anne Trygg of Dillsburg had beginner's luck when the fleece she entered at the Maryland Sheep and Wool Festival placed first of 401 fleeces judged.

Although it is unusual to win top honors the first time entering prestigious shows — especially since she owns only three sheep — Trygg's win was not haphazard luck.

The Dillsburg woman thoroughly researched criteria for raising sheep with top quality wool before she purchased her first sheep.

Trygg said that became interested in sheep after deciding that some animals would make a good addition to the 15 acres that she and her husband Jim own.

"Sheep are about as large an animal as I could comfortably handle. And I thought I could find a market for the fleeces with spinners," she said.

After several years of reading everything that she could find on sheep, attending sheep shows at the Farm Show and York Fair, and repeatedly talking with sheep exhibitors, Trygg took the plunge and purchased the sheep.

Her first three sheep were purchased from Carol Peyser, a spinner with the Wool Wizards of Farm Show Sheep to Shawl fame.

Peyser, a spinner, encouraged Trygg to try spinner. Trygg did and loved it.

The exposure to spinning opened up a whole new way of looking at wool for Trygg. She looks at each fleece with an eye to how it will spin.

So far, Trygg hasn't sold any of her fleeces because each fleece is special to her and she looks forward to making something from it.

The fleece from her first Border Leicester ram won the York Fair Reserve Grand Champion fleece award last year. This year, she proved that it wasn't just beginner's luck when the fleece from her lamb won the grand championship at the York Fair.

Having a small flock allows Trygg to give each animal individual attention.

When an undiagnosed illness caused her ram to die, Trygg was devastated.

"I spend time with them each day. They're like pets," Trygg said.

She examined several breeds before deciding to purchase another Border Leicester. This time, it was a lamb.

"I like their wool, and I like the way they look — they're beautiful animals," Trygg said of the Border Leicester breed.

Dusty, purchased from Ramsden Farms in Birdsboro joined Trygg's flock in June 1993.

Trygg also credits her friend and neighbor Deb Flanagan with helping her with problems she encounters in her flock.

Flanagan showed Trygg how to worm, trim the feet, and shear the sheep.

Research and hard work have paid off, Trygg said. She plans to enter the Pennsylvania Farm Show to continue to prove that her first win was not beginner's luck.

Trygg's sheep are like pets. She spends hours with them each day. Here, she pets Pepper, a Border Leicester ewe.

Since Joanne has learned to spin wool, she entered a scarf in York Fair competition that took first place this year. Joanne won 17 ribbons at the York Fair for wool and flower entries.

Away From The Midway, A Fair Of The Heart

LOU ANN GOOD

Lancaster Farming Staff
EPHRATA (Lancaster Co.) — Parades, food, amusement rides, and contests attract large crowds to county fairs. But the average visitor misses a lot of the behind-the-scenes happenings that weave interest into the lives of local residents.

Did you know that the first-place winner of the chocolate cake contest at Ephrata Fair had never tried the winning recipe before entering?

Did you know that several life-lessons develop among youth showing livestock in competition at the Fair?

Did you know that the livestock barns are also study halls for self-disciplined teen-agers who want to keep up their grades during the busy fair season?

Here's a "sort-of" behind the scenes capsule about several happenings at the Ephrata Fair held last week.

Jeff and Jerry Bollinger are twin sons of Ray and Sharon Bollinger of Ephrata. Fairgoers have watched these two identical twins and their younger brother Keith maneuver their sheep into the winner's circle for years. This season was no exception and a story about the twin brothers' capturing both champion and reserve breeding sheep trophies appeared in last week's issue of Lancaster Farming.

But it's the unpublished news that is making life-changing decisions in the twins' lives.

Both are 19 years old. Both are engaged.

Both met their fiancées through FFA events.

It all started several years ago when Jeff met Andrea Noll, who is from Perry County, at an FFA state activity.

At first, there was some confusion for Andrea, who, not realizing Jeff was a twin, struck up a conversation with him. She had met him before, she said, at another event.

Jeff, who is accustomed to mistaken identity with his twin, acknowledged that it was probably his brother.

"Now, I would never mistake the two," Andrea said. "There are many different comparisons between them, and I can tell the differences immediately."

It was, Jeff said, Andrea's long blond hair that first caught his attention. But it is their common bond for the farm that causes their relationship to grow.

"We both want a farm. I plan to have sheep until I die," Jeff said.

"And I want to raise throughbred race horses," said Andrea, who already owns one.

Much of their dating life during the past two years has been spent at horse and sheep shows where they help each other with the showing.

A damper was put on the time they spent with each other when Andrea became the state FFA president last year.

"Last year, he sacrificed his life for me," Andrea said of the couple's inability to see much of each other while she traveled across the state fulfilling FFA duties.

Jeff is now in his second year at Penn State Berks Campus. His career goal is set on becoming an extension agent. This past summer, Jeff worked as an intern with Chet Hughes, livestock extension agent in Lancaster.

Several months ago, Jeff presented Andrea with an engagement diamond.

"But he never lets me forget that he could have spent all that money on sheep," Andrea said of what Jeff considers a supreme sacrifice.

Love sparked for these two couples through FFA activities. Twins Jeff, left, and Jerry have been showing sheep at the Ephrata Fair for years. This year Jeff clinched the top trophy in breeding sheep and his brother the reserve. With them are their fiancées, Andrea, right, and Chrissy. Chrissy is from Bradford County and Andrea is from Bradford County. When the couples first met, they found they had a lot to talk about because of the common bond of showing livestock and FFA membership. Photo by Lou Ann Good.

Homework can't wait for Amy Bollinger, right. The 15-year-old snatches some time in-between sheep showing to catch up on homework while her friend Lisa Pfautz offers some assistance. "My algebra teacher is 'Queen of Homework,'" said Amy who had problems finding a spot to use her solar-powered calculator. Photo by Lou Ann Good.

Now, it is Andrea that is sacrificing her life, she said. She gave up college to work at a secretarial job in order to save money for marriage.

Until last week, the couple were planning on getting married next year. But they decided it is wiser financially to wait until Jeff graduates from college. After their marriage, Andrea plans to attend college for an ag-related degree.

Although twin brother Jerry had met Chrissy Acompora from Bradford County at an FFA event three years earlier, the couple did not begin dating until she moved into the area to attend Penn State Berks Campus. While working at McDonald's part time, Chrissy met Jerry when he came in with Jeff and Andrea.

"It was really us (Andrea and Jeff) that got them together," said Jeff, who now regrets it because, "I liked it better when he wasn't dating then he gave me money for college."

"All we talked about on our first date was FFA — we were both county officers — and livestock judging," Chrissy said.

The following week after their first date, Chrissy ended up in the hospital for an emergency operation. A ruptured cyst resulted in a seriously ill Chrissy.

Jerry showed up every day at the hospital. According to Chrissy, Jerry aided in her recuperation by sneaking food into the hospital.

It was through this experience and their interest in agriculture that caused the relationship to bloom. Chrissy now wears a diamond.

The couple plans to marry in April. Chrissy suspended her college education to save money for the couple's wedding. She plans to resume college studies next fall. Jerry works full time for a cabinet shop.

Because Chrissy grew up on an 145-acre farm where they raise Black Angus cows, she showed cows. Since she met Jerry, she grew to love sheep. She plans to raise her own sheep and both will exhibit sheep next year.

Not every thing that goes on in the sheep pen is fun and games. Amy Bollinger can attest to that.

The 15-year-old from Manheim has been showing sheep at various county fairs for years. This year at Ephrata, she showed the reserve champion market lamb.

While some teachers may be a bit lenient with students competing in livestock showing, Amy said that her algebra teacher is "Queen of Homework." After all the excitement of showing the champion reserve, Amy hit the books in the sheep pen. She was trapped at the Fair because the parade had not ended. With the sound of pounding drums in the distance and the accompaniment of nearby sheep bleats, Amy was finding it a bit difficult to concentrate on algebra formulas.

"But I need to work here because I have a solar powered calculator and it's too dark outside," Amy said.

Several blocks away from Tent City and the bleating sheep are the food displays.

Winner of the Blue Ribbon Apple Pie Contest was Eleanor Hartraft. The local win means that she is eligible to enter state competition at the Harrisburg Farm Show in January.

A seasoned baker of apple pies, Eleanor said that for the last six years her apple pie has made it to top three placings at the Ephrata Fair.

Her first place win was her old favorite standby recipe.

"Through the years, I've tried every prize-winning recipe, but my family always says that mine is best," Eleanor said.

She got up early to pick her own apples before baking the pie.

Since she grew up on an apple farm in Ephrata, she knows about everything there is to know about apples.

One thing, she stresses, is that cooks should always be open to trying different varieties of apples.

"There are so many delicious varieties," she said. She prefers Crispin apples for pies. For eating, she said Pipen are the best. "They are ugly looking," Eleanor said of the old variety.

Her brother, who took over the family orchard, always saves a tree for Eleanor to select her apples.

Eleanor said that she has been entering baking and flower competitions at Ephrata Fair for 45 years. This year alone, she won 25 ribbons for her entries. She's passing on the tradition to her grandchildren. This year, a granddaughter took a fourth place ribbon.

First-place winner in the apple pie contest at Ephrata Fair is Eleanor Hartraft.

Cindy Risser's chocolate cake took first place, which means she will bake the cake for the Pennsylvania Farm Show in January.

Although she likes to bake cakes, it was the first time Cindy won a ribbon for an entry. She confessed that it was also the first time she used the recipe that won.

Cindy had seen a recipe in a magazine. She made a few adjustments to the icing and entered it in the Fair. When it placed first, her husband John could hardly wait for the opportunity to taste it.

"I promise I'll bake this cake a few more times for practice before going to the State Farm Show," Cindy said.

Tammy Frey's Mocha Almond Cake gave stiff competition to Cindy's cake.

Cindy said that she won the chocolate cake recipe contest two years ago. She has been using this same basic recipe with many changes since she was a little girl. She bakes cakes, pies, and fancy desserts for friends and family. Her dream is to go to a professional cooking school.

"My mother taught me the basics, but now she thinks I'm a better baker than she is," Cindy said. Here are a few of the prize winning recipes.

MOIST CHOCOLATE CAKE WITH CREAMY ICING

Cindy Risser

2 cups all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking powder
2 teaspoons baking soda
¼ cup Hershey's cocoa
2 cups sugar
1 cup oil
1 cup hot coffee
1 cup milk
2 eggs

1 teaspoon vanilla

Sift dry ingredients in a large mixing bowl. Add oil, coffee, and milk. Mix at medium speed for 2 minutes. Add eggs and vanilla. Beat 2 minutes more. Pour into 2 9-inch cake pans. Bake at 325 degrees for 30 minutes.

Creamy Icing:

1 cup milk
5 tablespoons flour
½ cup butter softened
1 cup confectioners' sugar
½ cup shortening
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla

Combine milk and flour in a saucepan. Cook until thick. Cover and refrigerate. In a medium mixing bowl, beat butter, shortening, sugar, and vanilla until creamy. Add chilled milk and flour mixture. Beat 10 minutes. Frost cake.

ELEANOR'S APPLE PIE

Crust:

3 cups flour
1 teaspoon salt
¼ cup sugar
1¼ cup shortening
½ cup cold water
1 egg
1 teaspoon cider vinegar

Combine flour, salt, and sugar. Cut in shortening. Combine water, egg, and vinegar. Stir in to flour mixture until soft dough forms. Roll into 9-inch pie crust.

Apple Pie Filling:

5-6 Crispin apples
½ cup sugar
¼ cup flour
¼ teaspoon cinnamon

Peel and slice apples. Stir in sugar, flour, and cinnamon. Pour into 9-inch pie crust. Top with crumbs.

Crumbs:

¼ cup flour
½ cup sugar
6 tablespoons butter

With for, crumble butter into flour and sugar mixture. Sprinkle on top of apple filling. Bake at 375 degrees for about 60 minutes or until done.

MOCHA ALMOND CAKE

Tammy Frey

Moist chocolate cake:

2 cups flour
2 cups sugar
¼ cup cocoa
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking powder
2 teaspoons baking soda
½ cup shortening, melted
1 cup milk
1 cup boiling coffee
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 teaspoon almond extract
2 eggs

Combine all dry ingredients in a large mixing bowl. Add melted shortening, milk, and coffee. Mix 2 minutes until mixture is smooth. Add eggs and extracts and mix another 2 minutes. Pour batter into 2 9-inch greased and floured pans. Bake at 350 degrees for 20 to 25 minutes or until done.

Cool 10 minutes in pans then turn onto racks and cool completely.

Mocha Buttercream:

1 cup softened butter
½ cup butter-flavored shortening
3 cups confectioners' sugar
½ cup cocoa
1 teaspoon instant coffee diluted in 1 tablespoon water
2 tablespoons Kahlua liqueur
3 tablespoons milk
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
½ teaspoon almond extract

Cream together butter and shortening. Add sugar and cocoa alternately with liquid ingredients. Add flavorings and whip until light and fluffy.

Assembly:

Cut cake layers in half. Brush layers with a mixture of 2 tablespoons Kahlua and 3 tablespoons water. Fill and frost layers with mocha buttercream. Decorate with toasted almond slices.

JOHN DEERE 714 MULCH TILLER AND 550 MULCH MASTER

Post-harvest protection, preplant preparation

Here's a one-two punch that keeps residue levels up without sacrificing tillage benefits: Team up the 714 Mulch Tiller and the 550 Mulch Master for your primary and secondary tillage.

Winterize your fields. Put the John Deere 714 Mulch Tiller to work after harvest to cut up stalks and slice packed soil. The 714 leaves a protective blanket of up to 80 percent of initial residue . . . to keep moisture in and topsoil on. High underframe clearance and hydraulic coulter depth adjustment keep you in the driver's seat despite changing field conditions.

Safeguard your seedbed. Next spring, hitch up the weed-killing, residue-saving John Deere 550 Mulch Master for ideal seedbed preparation. Mulch Master's double rank of patented cup-tooth incorporator wheels mix chemicals uniformly into the weed zone . . . and kick up buried residue. One pass is all you need.

Don't sacrifice tillage benefits for higher residue levels. Get both with the ideal tillage team for conservation farming — the 714 Mulch Tiller and the 550 Mulch Master — from your John Deere dealer.

Tim Hoderny, right, of Greenfield township was the high-scoring individual in the junior division of the archery contest at this year's State 4-H Achievement Days held recently at Penn State University. A member of the Orbiters 4-H Club, Hoderny is pictured here with Dr. Katherine Fennelly, professor and head of the Department of Agriculture and Extension Education in Penn State's College of Agricultural Sciences.

Erie County 4-H teens Daryl Stanley, center, of Franklin Township, and Kateri Maille, right, of Harborcreek, won the senior boys division and the junior girls division, respectively, of the physical fitness contest at the recent State 4-H Achievement Days at Penn State University. They are pictured with Dr. Katherine Fennelly, professor and head of the Department of Agriculture and Extension Education in Penn State's College of Agricultural Sciences.

Kevin Cram, Danville, took first place in the junior riflery individual statewide competition held on Penn State's University Park Campus. COOPERATIVES MEETING PEOPLE'S NEEDS

October Is Co-op Month.

Cooperative Organizations and institutions play an important role in meeting the needs of our citizens and in improving our communities. They are among our leading business enterprises, with millions of owner members.

Many benefits are gained by belonging to cooperatives and many contributions are made by these special institutions to the economy and development of our state and nation.

The Seven Milk Cooperatives serving the dairy farmers in Pennsylvania and neighboring states are proud to be a part of this great cooperative enterprise.

Pizza Story

On Friday, August 26, approximately 300 people visited the Ag Day, "The Pizza Story" at the Carlisle Plaza Mall, presented by Cumberland County Farm Bureau Women's Committee.

The Story began with, "Once upon a time..." and went through seven chapters in the story.

Chapter I - The Farm. A scale model of the buildings, livestock, and machinery with price tags placed by the machinery was displayed. A new tractor would range from $80,000 to $100,000 is one example of information found on this table.

Chapter II - The Wheat. Examples of the wheat stalk, grain, a variety of flours, grain storage equipment and pizza crust helped to show the importance of the work and product from the grain farmer.

Chapter III - The Sauce. A tomato plant was exhibited beside a display of tomato at different stages of growth from blossom to vine ripe tomatoes. Commercially prepared and home-canned tomato products plus fresh herbs and other vegetables often included in pizza were arranged at this table.

Chapter IV - The Pork. A sausage topped pizza, meat cuts from the hog, recipes and tasty pork meat ball samples helped tell the Pork story.

Chapter V - The Beef. Mr Larry Huttenga, representing the Beef Council, displayed recipes and information on the correct handling of beef. Browned, lean ground beef was arranged on the pizza displayed at this table. A large poster showing named meat cuts available to the consumer was displayed here, too.

Chapter VI - The Cheese. The Cumberland County Dairy Princess, Kimberly Orris, arranged a display which included free samples of cheese, one of the main ingredients of a pizza.

Amanda Rhoades, Cumberland County Farm Expo Little Miss, was available to meet folks for a time during the 1:00 to 8:00 presentation.

Chapter VII - The Pizza. At the table for our final chapter, pizza from Four Star Pizza of Carlisle displayed.

The pizza contained grain, vegetable, meat, and dairy products. Pizza, like all of our food, has its birth on the farm. Some statistics were available, on posters, to show the relationship to agriculture through our food supply.

MADE IN U.S.A.

Consumers Prefer Butter

Fewer people are depriving themselves of the great taste of butter. For the first time in 15 years butter consumption is increasing while sales for other table spreads have been slipping.

Per capita consumption of butter is up 10 percent over the past three years. Last year alone, butter sales jumped 8.8 percent, and more increases are expected.

Consumers are buying more butter because of lower prices. The gap between prices of butter and margarine has decreased considerably over the past few years. Lower price isn't the only reason people are buying more butter. Bad publicity for margarine has also increased butter sales. Medical studies have linked trans fatty acids to margarine. This new research shows that trans fatty acids found in margarine raise blood cholesterol.

Consumers rate butter primarily for its taste and the delectable flavor it brings to other foods. Many find butter to taste more natural than margarine.

You Ask ? ? ? ? ? ? You Answer

This column is for readers who have questions but don't know whom to ask for the answers.

"You Ask — You Answer" is for non-cooking questions. When a reader sends in a question, it will be printed in the paper. Readers who know the answer are asked to respond by mailing the answer, which will then be printed in the paper.

Questions and answers to this column should be addressed to You Ask — You Answer, Lou Ann Good, P.O. Box 609, Ephrata, PA 17522.

QUESTION — Bob of Bob's Radiator Repair in Woodstown, N.J., writes that his daughter is collecting wood items called Woody Woodpecker. She has a few pieces such as a knife holder, canister set, and wax paper holder. She would like to know how many pieces are in the whole set and what each piece is named.

QUESTION — Hilda L. Rossal, Bethel, N.Y., is looking for a person who could teach rag rug weaving on the loom. She lives in the Honesdale area.

QUESTION — Rosemary VanDeWeert, Geneseo, N.Y., would like to know if anyone knows of someone who makes a child-size rocking cow or where it may be purchased.

QUESTION — Coralie A. Grant, Coopersburg, would like a pattern for the old-type yo yo clown doll. She has looked everywhere. Could someone send it to her, please. Tell us if you send it so we can drop this request.

QUESTION — Stanley Siedlecki, Jarrettsville, Md., writes that his woodburning stove emits a strong wood burning smell during humid days and nights. The flue has been cleaned. Is there something that can be done to prevent this odor or condition?

QUESTION — C. Van Horn, Mt. Pleasant Mills, would like to know what works and is safe to remove yellow and grease stains from old china dishes, especially ironstone. She would like something that makes the dishes white again.

QUESTION — E. Otis Dyer, Rehoboth, Mass., would like to know the name of the company in Pennsylvania, the address, and if the company is still in business — the one that makes a farm fence kit consisting of two channel irons and hinges. The farmer supplies the wooden cross piece measuring 2x8-inches and barbwire strands.

QUESTION — M. Carver writes: What a surprise in our garden when we discovered the local nursery supplied us with cabbage plants instead of brussels sprouts. We would like to know how they are handled while fresh.

QUESTION — Shirley Baer, New Freedom, would like handmade aluminum made during the late 1930s and 1940s, especially those with designs of animals, flowers, and fowl.

QUESTION — A reader would like to know how to remove cloudiness from clear crystal.

QUESTION — Kenneth Hixon, Warfordsburg, would like the complete address for the Schrader Co. that makes automotive tire repair accessories. He needs parts for #5235 valve vulcanizing tool.

ANSWER — A Birdsboro reader wanted to know how to remove underarm odor from laundered work clothing when the smell still clings to the clothing after several washings. Thanks to Helen Nolt, New Holland, for answering. She said buy 20 Mule Team Borax that is sold in supermarkets. The box is green and yellow with red lettering. Add ½ cup Borax to your regular detergent. She said the laundry will smell fresh and breezy. Also, Borax often removes soil stains.

Also, thanks to a Leola reader who suggest using one cup baking soda with the laundry. Baking soda may be purchased in 50 pound bags from feed mills.

ANSWER — Nancy Cummings, Bolivar, wanted to know why celery plants go to seed. She has grown celery all her life, and the last two years, some of the plants go to seed instead of developing a nice stalk. Thanks to a Leola reader who said that it has been her experience that the plants go to seed if planted too early or the plants go through stress from a long dry period. Green house plants are more prone to go to seed. Try using field-grown plants.

Planning a party at home to watch your favorite football team on TV may be safer than trying to maneuver through congested streets and crowds to get to the stadium. But the pressure may be on in the kitchen to get everything ready in time for kickoff. While you may not want to miss a single minute of the game, you certainly want to make sure your food is prepared safely.

To help you score a food safety touchdown, here are a few hints.

Select foods that need little or no preparation. Order a party platter, for instance. When you pick it up, be sure it's the last errand on your shopping trip. Then, take it home and store it in the refrigerator as quickly as possible. Remember to keep your refrigerator at 40 degrees F or less.

Take advantage of the deli, and purchase lunch meats or prepared salads there. If you buy cold cuts to make your own platter, be sure to observe the "sell-by" or "use by" date marked on the package. Wrap the meats well to prevent them from drying out, and store the platter in the refrigerator. Kept in the original vacuum-sealed package, lunch meats can be stored safely in your refrigerator for two weeks. Once the package has been opened, wrap the meats well and use them within three to five days.

If you must cook, do it ahead of time. Cooking a ham, chicken or roast in advance will help keep you out of the kitchen during the game. However, be sure you don't cook them too far in advance, or you may run into problems with harmful or spoilage bacteria. Cooked meats and poultry can be sliced into small pieces, covered completely, and safely stored in a refrigerator for three or four days, provided they aren't smothered with broth or gravy. Broth or gravy can harbor bacteria, so don't keep these foods in the refrigerator more than a day or two. For best results, drain and refrigerate the broth for gravy in a separate container and prepare it on the day of the dinner.

Another tip to help keep you out of the kitchen is to use a slow cooker to prepare Swedish meatballs, stews or other hot foods. Make sure the slow cooker is operated properly, by starting foods cooking on high and then reduce the temperature to a lower setting. Do not overstuff cooker, so the food can cook all the way through.

To spread a worry-free feast keep hot foods hot and cold foods cold. The danger zone for bacterial growth is between 40 and 140 degrees F. Frequently wash your hands and any cutting surfaces, knives or other utensils used in food preparation. Cross-contamination can occur if a utensil or cutting board is used initially for raw meat or poultry and then for other foods.

If you're serving hot foods, heat them above 140 degrees F then, use chafing dishes or hot plates to keep the following foods hot: casseroles, stews, baked beans or cheese dips. If you can't keep all of the foods hot at once, store some in the refrigerator and heat them as needed to replenish the serving dishes.

Also, keep track of how long cold foods have been in the refrigerator. Don't leave perishable foods out at room temperature for more than two hours. Put small portions out on the table and replenish them from the refrigerator. Discard all perishable foods that have been held at room temperature longer than the recommended two-hour limit.

You can freeze leftovers, except for salads that contain mayonnaise. The mayonnaise will separate if frozen, and when you defrost the food, it will be oily. Most cooked red meats can be stored in the freezer up to three months and sliced chicken and turkey can be frozen for about a month.

Chester County Captures 5 Championships

Chester County 4-H Dairy members won one junior championship and four reserve championships at the 49th Southeast District 4-H Dairy Show at the Kutztown Fairgrounds.

There were 207 animals exhibited from eight southeastern Pennsylvania counties including Berks, Bucks, Chester, Lehigh, Monroe, Montgomery, Northampton, and Schuylkill. Among the animals exhibited were 78 Holsteins, 27 Ayrshires, 17 Brown Swisses, 26 Guernseys, 51 Jerseys, six Milking Shorthorns, and two Linebacks.

Patty McMurray, 4-H leader and Holstein and Guernsey breeder from Washington County, Pennsylvania picked Rebecca Nolan's Winter Yearling, S & M

Ayr Irs Ola, for junior champion of the Ayrshire show. Rebecca is a first-year member from Cochranville. Kelly Young, West Grove, was chosen the reserve junior champion with Pure-Ayr Suzie Q Twinkie, a winter calf. Her sister, Kathryn Young, showed an outstanding junior 2-year-old Ayrshire, Pure-Ayr Surplus's R.R. Clover, for reserve senior and reserve grand champion.

In the Jersey breed, Erica Lloyd, Pottstown, was named the reserve senior and reserve grand champion with a fine senior 3-year-old, Patrick Joyce. Tarik Gaffney captured the reserve junior champion award with Top-O-Hill Admiral Thimble, a fall calf. In all, Chester County 4-H'ers took first place in 17 different age classes.

LaDonna Miller Prepares For KILE

LINDA WILLIAMS

Bedford Co. Correspondent
BEDFORD (Bedford Co.) —

Fifteen-year-old LaDonna Miller is anxious and waiting for the Keystone competition which opens at the Farm Show Arena on October 5.

A sophomore at Bedford High School, LaDonna and her Limousins are used to competing even for honors as prestigious as those offered by Keystone International Livestock Exposition (KILE).

The slim, brunette, daughter of state trooper, Dave, and Linda Miller, has been taking home awards from the Bedford Fair, the Pennsylvania State Farm Show, and Keystone since she's been big enough to hold a lead. She's been a member of the Beef Rustlers 4-H Club for eight years.

At the Bedford Fair, LaDonna has had the third overall place in market steers for three years. "I seem to be stuck in third gear," She smiles broadly.

She has had champion heifer for two years and grand champion heifer two years. This year, her Limousin heifer, Stormy, won Supreme Champion Female over all breeds in the open show and brought her a nice check.

Bill Popovich of Bedford Farm Bureau sponsored the cash prize for this new Bedford Fair class because it helps to encourage the breeding of better beef cattle for the cattle industry.

LaDonna has also had the fair's best home bred champion for the past three years.

In Pennsylvania State Farm Show competition, LaDonna showed the Reserve Champion Limousin steer; took a second overall and had the 1993 Reserve Champion Limousin.

This young cattle farmer has already taken home a third overall at Keystone and a first in "Best bred and owned".

Ribbons and trophies don't come easily and LaDonna spends most of her summer in the cattle barn, leading, bathing, and brushing her own eight Limousins. "I spend as much time as possible in the winter," she says. "It all depends on how much homework I have. But I try to be out here at least two hours a day," she talks as she brushes a Limousin heifer. "I get to keep her," LaDonna said. "She's breeding stock."

Her favorite, a middleweight steer named, "Little Bob," brought her the third place honor at the Bedford Fair this year. "It was hard to part with him," she admits, "Even at $2.90 a pound."

The Millers, including brothers, Brian and Kevin, farm 140 acres of land and have a total of LaDonna with Little Bob after winning third place overall and best homebred titles at the Great Bedford Fair.

130 Limousins. As much feed as possible is raised on their own farm.

"For now, LaDonna is not certain of the career path she will choose but she knows it must include working with animals. "I've thought about being a vet," she says. "But, if I don't make that, I know my life will still include working with animals in some way."

In the meantime, LaDonna is ready and proud to be among the 4,400 entries to compete for $217,369 in premium money at the Keystone International competition.

Ida's Notebook

Ida Risser

It seems rather late in the season, but our church just had a picnic on their own grounds. Prior to the picnic not many members had been in this particular area except for the lawn-mowing people and a few gardeners. It was cool and so we did not need the shade of the big trees that are there. In fact, the members who volunteered for the dunking tank got quite cold. The children enjoyed the clown and his balloon animals. Some of them got their faces painted and looked like little kittens with their whiskers. There was lots of music too.

After I finished preparing for a Bible Study group to meet in my home, I felt as though my fall housecleaning was completed. My husband was kind enough to get a ladder and wash the windows on the outside while I did the inside. You see, since we built on a hill, some of the first floor windows are fifteen feet off the ground. The two bay windows with their wide expanse of glass look very nice now.

Also as part of my preparation, I baked a big apple cake—the third one in a week. Our daughter in New Jersey has a large tree, which they do not even spray but the large, red apples are perfect. She gave us several baskets of them and they make a bright pink applesauce.

My first tomato plants were eaten off by a groundhog who has a hole near my garden. So I had to buy more and replant. Thus, they are quite late and only now am I canning them and making juice.

Our watermelon and cantaloupes all seemed to ripen at the same time this summer and so we gave most of them to relatives and neighbors. However, a green-fleshed melon with a good flavor bore fruit much later and we are still enjoying them. The ground cherries, which I planted for the first time, are good in pies and taste a bit like an apple pie. soon our fresh fruit will only be a memory.

Cooking With Grandkids Spans Generation Gap

ROSEMONT, IL — Nothing transcends the generation gap like grandparents and their grandkids. Even if today's seniors are more energetic, affluent, sophisticated and well traveled, chances are they're traditional in their all-out affection for their grandchildren.

Moms may not cook the way they used to and ditto for Grams, but an encounter in the kitchen is still a warm way for the generations to come together. It takes just a little thought to make cooking sessions with kids education, meaningful and memorable. First, select several recipes (that taste good, of course) and let your grandchild make the final choices.

Next, establish some rules that lay the foundation for good safety and organizational skills. They might include:

Safety first! Instill a healthy respect for sharp knives and hot ranges. Talk about using hot pads, turning saucepan handles away from the edge of the stove and keeping towels and pot holders away from open flames or hot burners.

Wash hands! Emphasize hand-washing before cooking and often during the process, especially after scraping the bowl clean and licking your fingers. (Why does buttery dough taste so good unbaked?)

Clean Up! Make sure that the young cook understands that part of cooking is cleaning up as-you-go and afterwards. Point out that spills are easier mopped up before given a chance to set.

With these essentials understood, your involvement depends a lot on the age of the child. Throw in some kitchen terms when appropriate. Explain the value of good ingredients — fresh real butter or cheese, for example. Talk about the difference between melting and simmering/boiling when melting the butter to make the Blondies in the following recipe. Explain baking versus broiling when putting the oatmeal Raisin Biscuit dough in the oven.

And whenever possible, follow a hands-on philosophy. Let the kids knead the biscuit dough, pointing out that too much kneading can lead to tough biscuits, but let them knead the dough scraps to their hearts' content. Most of all, keep it fun.

BLONDIES Yield: 16 Squares

- 6 tablespoons butter
- 1 cup firmly packed light brown sugar
- 2 eggs
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 1 cup all-purpose flour
- 1/2 teaspoon baking powder
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup peanut butter chips

Preheat oven to 350°F. Melt butter in medium-sized heavy saucepan. Remove from heat. Stir in brown sugar until dissolved. Beat in eggs and vanilla. Combine flour, baking powder and salt. Stir into butter mixture. Spread batter evenly in well-buttered 9-inch square pan. Sprinkle peanut butter chips over top. Bake 25 to 30 minutes, or until wooden pick inserted in center comes out clean. Cool completely in pan on wire rack before cutting.

OATMEAL RAISIN BISCUITS Yield: 18

- 1 3/4 cups all-purpose flour
- 1/2 cup quick oats, uncooked
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon EACH: salt, baking soda
- 1/2 cup golden raisins
- 1/4 cup (1/2 stick) butter
- 3/4 cup buttermilk

Preheat oven to 425°F. Combine flour, oats, sugar, baking powder, salt and soda in large mixing bowl. Stir in raisins. Cut in butter until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Stir in buttermilk just until dough holds together. Knead dough on lightly floured surface about 10 times. Roll dough to 1/2-inch thickness. Cut with a 2-inch diameter round cutter. Place biscuits about 1-inch apart on buttered cookie sheet. Bake 12 to 15 minutes, or until golden. Cool slightly. Remove from cookie sheet. Serve warm or cold with butter.

Variation: Butterscotch Oat Drop Biscuits - Substitute butterscotch chips for the raisins. Increase buttermilk to 1 cup. Follow directions above. Drop by teaspoonfuls about 1-inch apart on buttered cookie sheet. Bake as directed above. Yield: 20.

KEYSTONE INTERNATIONAL LIVESTOCK EXPOSITION NEWS

FARM SHOW COMPLEX, HARRISBURG, PA

October 5 to October 10, 1994

The show is sponsored by the Pennsylvania Livestock Association, the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture, and the Pennsylvania Farm Show Commission.

Published In Lancaster Farming, October 1, 1994

KILE Celebrates 38 Years

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — The Keystone International Livestock Exposition (KILE) is in its 38th year at Harrisburg. The Exposition is recognized nationally as a showcase for the nation's top beef cattle, swine, sheep, and horses. It will be held at the Farm Show Complex in Harrisburg on October 5-10.

The year 1994 has been designated as "Year of the horse," so horse exhibitors will receive special attention as part of the effort to increase public awareness of the horse industry and the high caliber of horse shows held annually at KILE.

Increased interest and entries have led the show management to expand the horse program to six days, which moves the Appaloosa show to Wednesday and the Quarter Horse show to Sunday. Once again, part of the draft horse-hitch show is a qualifying event in the North American Six Horse Hitch Classic Series, and many of the country's top rated hitches will work to earn points for the national event in Ocala, Florida.

Other livestock will also garner international attention. The American Polled Hereford Association has designated KILE as one of its three rotating Standard of Productivity (SOP) shows. The SOP show is always a major attraction because of its genetic focus approach to cattle judging.

The Shorthorn Show has been designated as a Point Accumulation Event by the American Shorthorn Association. The Limousin Cattle Show is a Medal of Excellence Show, Level II, and is one of eight approved regional competitions that qualify exhibitors for the national show.

Sheep competition at KILE features the National Merino Show, Great Lakes Regional Rambouillet Show, and Eastern Regional Junior Dorset Show. The Junior Sheep Show has been expanded to include Rambouillet and Tunis breeds.

Hundreds of collegiate, FFA, and 4-H students from several states always enter the junior livestock judging and stockman contests at KILE. These keen educational competitions are excellent tests of knowledge and skill, providing students with valuable experience for their futures in agriculture.

With the newly-expanded Pennsylvania Farm Show Complex, KILE has been able to spread out through two additional acres of indoor exhibit space. More than 4,400 entries are expected for the 1994 show, which offers a record $217,369 in premiums.

Eleven scheduled performances by Animals of Distinction will delight thousands of children and adults with their tricks throughout the Keystone International Livestock Exposition.

1994 Is The Year Of The Horse

HARRISBURG (Centre Co.) — The Keystone International Livestock Show, October 5-10, will celebrate the Year of the Horse in its continuing cycle of honoring an animal breed each year. Don Tanner of Smethport and John Cole of Centre Hall are busy preparing activities in honor of horses.

The opening ceremony, scheduled for 4 p.m. on Thursday, October 6, in the Small Arena, will feature a 20-minute presentation on the history of horses and current breeds.

Two major shows will be held in the Large Arena:

• October 7, at 7 p.m. will feature the ever popular Challenge of the Breeds, which will feature six internationally recognized horse breeds: Appaloosa, Arabian, Half-Arabian, Percheron, Paint and Quarter Horse against each other in an evening of mastery and fun. A total of 12 horses chosen by their respective breed associations will be entered in the competition. Featured events include pleasure driving, English pleasure, hunter hack, western pleasure, western riding and barrel racing. The Keystone Sovereign champion will receive $1,000.

• Saturday, October 8 at 7 p.m., the Heavy Hitch Classic will be presented. The North American Six-Horse Hitch Classic Series is the ultimate driving event in the heavy horse world. The Keystone International Livestock Exposition has been chosen as one of 45 recognized Qualifying Shows on the Classic Series Show circuit. The six-horse hitches perform at state fairs and agricultural exhibitions to accumulate points for their region and beyond, competing at qualifying shows spread across Canada and the United States. The competition builds to a climax at the end of the year when the high-point hitches are invited to compete in the final competition, the Classic Series. The winner of the Classic Series All Breed Trophy is considered by many to be the best six-horse hitch in the world. The four major draft horse breeds that compete in the Classic Series are Belgians, Percherons, Clydesdales and Shires. Hitches are judged on conformation, manners, the proper fit and cleanliness of the harness, the appropriateness of the wagon, and the hitch's way of going. More than 15 hitches will be performing for your pleasure during the evening.

An admission-fee of $5 will be charged for these two shows.

Horse Shows happening daily include: Appaloosa Show - Wednesday, October 5, 8 a.m.; Draft Horse Halter Shows - Thursday through Saturday, October 6-8; Paso Fino Show - Saturday, October 8, 1 p.m.; Quarter Horse Show - Sunday, October 9, 8 a.m.; and Arabian Show - Monday, October 10, 8 a.m.

Hunter Named To Livestock Hall Of Fame

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — George V. Hunter, a lifetime resident of Mercer County, has been chosen as the Livestock Hall of Fame Award winner for 1994. He will be honored at a ceremony at 4 p.m. in the Small Arena of the Farm Show Complex in Harrisburg on Thursday, October 6.

Hunter's picture will be hung on the Small Arena wall with the 24 previous winners of this prestigious award.

This award is given by the Pennsylvania Livestock Association (PLA) and is chosen on the following three criteria: contribution to the livestock industry, involvement with the Pennsylvania Livestock Association, and contribution to the community.

Hunter was born in Mercer County in 1917. He attended Penn State University. He married Evelyn McMichael in 1943 and resides in Stoneboro. The Hunters have nine children, who are Samuel, Smithsburg, Md.; Mary Musser, New Middletown, Ohio; Robert, South Bend, Ind.; Frank, Cassadaga, N.Y.; Audrey Wheeler, Grove City; Donald, Butler; Glenn, Grove City; Elizabeth Kingsley, Leesburg; and Hazel at home. Nearly all the children are involved somehow in agriculture, primarily in the sheep industry. Fifteen grandchildren complete the family.

Hunter began exhibiting livestock in 1935 at the Mercer Fair for his father, Samuel R. Hunter. He purchased his first Suffolk sheep in 1939 and his first Shorthorns in 1948. He added Horned Dorsets in 1950 and owned Merinos for a few years during the 1950s. During the 1960s and 1970s, he raised and exhibited draft horses, Berkshire hogs, sheep and cattle at many Pennsylvania fairs as well as the Pennsylvania Farm Show and the Keystone International Livestock Exposition.

Hunter has shown sheep at KILE for all of the 37 years it has been in existence and has sheep entered in the 1994 show. He has missed only one year of showing at the Pennsylvania Farm Show since 1936 and that was last January following the death of his father.

Actively involved and interested in many farm organizations, he serves as newsletter editor for both the Pennsylvania Suffolk Association and the Pennsylvania Shorthorn Association. Over the years he has served on many boards in the livestock industry and is secretary of the Pennsylvania Suffolk Sheep Association, a position he has held for 33 years.

Other organizations in which Hunter has been active include Millbrook Grange, Shorthorn Association, American Shorthorn Association, National Suffolk Sheep Association, Continental Dorset Club, American Merino Association, Pennsylvania Sheep and Wool Growers Association, Northwest Cattlemen's Association, Mercer County and Venango County Sheep and Wool Growers Association, Keystone Ram and Ewe Sale and the KILE Sheep Committee.

Active in the Tower United Presbyterian Church, George has taught Sunday School for more than 15 years.

Hunter is very active in the sheep world today, even more since his retirement from the Arthur Armour Aluminum Shop, Grove City, as a metalsmith. He has judged sheep show all over Eastern United States. He has consigned to and supported numerous purebred livestock sales and has been chairman of the Pennsylvania Suffolk Ewe Sale for the past 31 years.

Special Features, Daily Attractions At KILE

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — 1994 has been designated as "Year of the Horse," so horse exhibitors will receive special attention as part of the effort to increase public awareness of the horse industry and the high caliber of horse shows held annually at KILE.

Increased interest and entries have led the show management to expand the horse program to six days, which moves the Appaloosa show to Wednesday and the Quarter Horse show to Sunday.

Once again, part of the draft horse-hitch show is a qualifying event in the North American Six Horse Hitch Classic Series, and many of the country's top rated hitches will work to earn points for the national event in Ocala, Florida.

The Keystone International Livestock Exposition is in its 38th year at Harrisburg. The Exposition is recognized nationally as a showcase for the nation's top beef cattle, swine, sheep, and horses. It will be held at the Farm Show Complex in Harrisburg on Oct. 5-10.

At the 1994 Show, one of America's top performing acts, Animals of Distinction, will be performing three shows daily. These world famous animal performers are drawing record crowds from coast to coast. They not only entertain but also educate against animal abuse and neglect.

For too many years, the only reason people had to attend the KILE was to look at the animals and make one quick trip through the barns before going home.

Two strolling acts, booked primarily for Thursday evening, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, will amble around the Farm Show Complex putting on their show. Blaze the Balloon Blowing Goat will be performing his act throughout the complex. Blaze does the hard work as his sidekick twists and turns the balloons into shapes for the youngsters.

The second strolling act of Mo Vint features a replica of an old steam engine as his amplifier. From the Big Fresno Fair to Myrtle Beach malls to Lifestyle Senior Expo Show, S.C., Mo Vint, attired in his conductors uniform, performs harmonica demonstrations and vocals, for young and old, from Peg O My Heart to Rubber Duckey and Orange Blossom Special.

PLA To Recognize Youth At KILE

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — The Pennsylvania Livestock Association (PLA) has recognized outstanding 4-H and FFA youth for the past 19 years.

This year the organization will only be able to recognize FFA youth due to the change in the forms submitted to the State 4-H office. In 1995, the PLA will develop a new system so that 4-H youth will again be recognized.

The male FFA Youth Award recipient is Scott Byers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Z. Lloyd Byers of Liverpool. Scott is 16 years old and is a member (since 1991) of the Greenwood High School FFA.

Scott's FFA projects have included swine, beef, sheep and crop production. He has held the offices of sentinel and parliamentarian of his chapter as well as chairman of the safety committee.

His plans include attending college, either majoring in ag engineering or computer science. Other activities he has been involved in include church youth group, soccer, basketball, and SADD.

His FFA adviser is Mee Cee Baker.

Jenny Zerby is the female recipient of the FFA Award. Jenny is 18 years old and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nevin Zerby of Beavertown. She has been an FFA member since 1990 at the West Snyder High School.

This year, she is serving as the president and regional area president. Her projects have included sheep, beef, and swine.

Jenny has taken this year off to fulfill her duties as state FFA president, but will be attending Penn State University Main Campus in 1995, pursuing a career in ag sciences.

While in high school, Jenny was active in baked, chorus, cheerleading, student council, 4-H, and church youth group.

Her advisers are Cynthia Shaffer and Stephen Kline.

The young people will be recognized at the Keystone International Livestock Show Opening Ceremony at the Small Arena of the Farm Show Complex on Thursday, Oct. 6, at 4 p.m. They will receive a plaque and a monetary award.

In 1994, more than 200 six-horse hitches were entered in the 45 qualifying shows across the United States and Canada. The Keystone International Livestock Exhibition is again a qualifying show for the 1994 year. Prize money will be awarded at the KILE show. The Heavy Hitch Classic will begin at 7 p.m. on Saturday, Oct. 8, in the large arena of the Farm Show Complex. An admission fee of $5 per person will be charged. The North American Six-Horse Hitch Classic Series is the ultimate driving event in the heavy horse world. KILE has been recognized as one of 45 recognized qualifying shows on the circuit.

The sport of driving draft horses is continuing to grow and find favor with audiences across the continent. The Classic Series competition offers incentives for exhibitors and encouragement to breeders of quality hitch horses. The real winner of the classic Six-Horse Hitch Series is the spectator. More than 400 draft horses will be on display at KILE, and more than 15 six-horse hitches will be competing for the Classic.

Visitors should appreciate improvements made to the Complex, while new traffic patterns and traffic signals on nearby highways should make for safer and more convenient visits.

Along with a huge array of livestock, the Exposition will include commercial and educational exhibits, top quality entertainment, and a tantalizing assortment of foods prepared by various Pennsylvania commodity groups.

• Daily Thursday through Sunday — Featured daily at the Keystone International Livestock Exposition are the Stockman's Trade Show, the Barnyard where young and old alike may touch, pet, and feed the animals, educational exhibits, agricultural commodity food booths, and strolling entertainers, Mo Vint, along with Blaze the Balloon Blowing Goat. Another daily attraction is the "Animals of Distinction" Show featuring trained animal. The animals will be performing several shows each day.

Thursday, October 6 — Media Day — The Keystone International Livestock Exposition officially begins at 8 a.m. with the Appaloosa Horse Show. The Livestock Person of the Year and Outstanding FFA and Livestock members will also be recognized.

• Friday, October 7 — Stockman's Day — Breeding sheep judging will begin at 8 a.m. The Draft Horse Halter Show begins at 8 a.m. along with the breeding swine at 9 a.m., featuring various breeds. Wool judging begins at 10 a.m. followed by Shropshire Breeding Sheep at 11 a.m. Simmental Cattle are featured at 12:30 p.m. Throughout the afternoon, various classes will be conducted including cattle and sheep. At 6 p.m. the Keystone Classic Sale will take place. Sponsoring the "Challenge of the Breeds Show" at 7 p.m. is Glatfelter Insurance Group of York. This is horsemanship at its best as six breeds; the Appaloosa, the Arabian, the Paint, Half-Arabian, Percheron, and the Quarter Horse go against each other in an evening of fun and mastery. The animals, two from each breed, will be chosen by their respective breed associations. In order to compete, the horses must be owned by a Pennsylvania resident. Also included will be Draft Horse Registered mares/Stallions 4-Horse 7 6-Horse Hitch Classes. An admission of $5 will be charged for the Challenge.

• Saturday, October 8 — Kid's Day — A busy day begins with the Draft Horse Halter Youth Classes at 8 a.m. The Intercollegiate and Junior Livestock Judging Contest also is held at 8 a.m. Judging begins at 8 a.m. for sheep and continues throughout the morning. A special attraction at noon is the Keystone Lead Line, an attractive combination, as sheep and shepherd are dressed in their finest. Also at noon Lebanon Valley National Bank is sponsoring the Agri-Kid Olympics. Farm-related competitive events will be held for children. At 1 p.m. the Paso Fino Horse Show is featured. The Yearling Bred Ewe Sale begins at 3 p.m. The Shorthorn PACE Show begins at 6 p.m. The Draft 4-Horse and 6-Horse Hitch show begins at 7 p.m. The breeds featured are Belgian, Clydesdale/Shire, and Percheron. An admission fee of $5 will be charged for the Draft Horse Hitch Show.

• Sunday, October 9 — Family Day — At 8 a.m. a family sunrise church service will be held. Junior Beef Breeding Cattle judging begins at 8 a.m. Beginning at 8 a.m. is Cheviot and Oxford breeding sheep followed by junior breeding sheep. Also beginning at 8 a.m. is the junior beef breeding cattle and the Quarter Horse Show. At 9 a.m. is the barrows on-foot. At 11 a.m. is the junior steers. The live hog evaluation contest is scheduled for 12:30 p.m. A busy day at the Expo continues with lambs, sheep, and hog judging throughout the rest of the day.

• Monday, October 10 — As the Keystone International Livestock Exposition enters its last day, there is still a very busy schedule. The Arabian Horse Show will begin at 8 a.m. At 8 a.m. the Corriedale, Columbia, and Tunis breeding sheep will be shown. At 9 a.m. is a busy time slot with Simmental Breeding Cattle and open barrows on-foot. The Keystone Stockman's Contest begins at 9:30 a.m. Sales Breeding Cattle are shown at noon. The Keystone Stockman's Contest Awards Program is scheduled for 2:30 p.m.

The week-long calendar is filled with educational activities: judging contests, the Keystone Stockman Contest, sales, shows and entertainment.

For more information, contact Beverly Gruber, Pennsylvania Livestock Association, P.O. Box 5, New Tripoli, Pa. 18066, (610) 767-5026.

Sponsors Listed

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — To date, 64 major sponsors have committed funds to support the Keystone International Livestock Exposition. A sponsorship program was put together a few years ago to assist in funding the show as well as to promote the show. With the revamped KILE program, many opportunities exist for agricultural companies and individuals to get involved.

Glatfelter Insurance Group in York is sponsoring the "Challenge of the Breeds" show on Friday evening in the large arena. This event will pit six internationally recognized horse breeds; Appaloosa, Arabian, half-Arabian, Percheron, Paint and Quarter Horse against each other in an evening of fun and mastery. A total of 12 horses chosen by their respective breed associations will be entered in the competition. The Keystone Sovereign Champion will then receive $1,000.

Sponsoring the Kiddie Pedal Pull is Evergreen Tractor Sales at Myerstown. Dennis Grumbine, owner, reports that he chose the Kiddie's Pedal Pull to sponsor because of the close tie-in with the equipment business. The Pedal Pull will be held on Saturday, October 8, at 3 p.m. The event is open to children between the ages of 3 and 8.

Kessler Meats has chosen to sponsor our daily "Kessler's Barnyard," as it is called, where kids of all ages can touch and pet barnyard animals. Kessler's Meats is located in Lemoyne.

Lebanon Valley National Bank is sponsoring the Agri-Kid Olympics. Farm-related competitive events will be held for children including wheelbarrow races, hay toss, sack races, hog-calling, and laughing contests. Kids will even learn how to auctioneer.

South Central PA Cattleman's Association is partially sponsoring the Keystone Stockman's Contest. It will be held on Monday, October 10 and is open to any 4-H or FFA member in the United States and Canada. Last year, 465 youth participated in this contest.

Sponsorships at KILE are available in six monetary denominations from $50 to $1,000+. Sponsors receive show pins, ring announcements, plaques, display ads, pictures and banners depending on the level of participation.

A list of the sponsors and their hometown follows:

Shepherd's Lead Line Oct. 8

HARRISBURG (DAUPHIN CO.) — Who looks better, the sheep or the Shepherd?

Judges will tell at the Keystone International Livestock

Exposition (KILE) Shepherd's Lead Line Competition to be held on Saturday, October 8, at noon at the Farm Show Complex.

The objectives of this class are to present a class of yearling ewes in a most attractive manner and give spectators an opportunity to see the best of the sheep industry.

The normal procedure at a livestock show is for the animal to be all primped and lovely, but in KILE's Lead Line competition the leadsman is also in the lime-light. Both are to be dressed fashionably in their best wool outfit with at least 80% wool.

Not just another pretty face can steal our show. Our herdsman must not only look grand but our sheep must also show their modeling talents. The contestants and the sheep must be able to work together in the ring.

The stet line competition has been around KILE for years and each year it gets easier for contestants to find their wool garments.

CHALLENGE OF THE BREEDS

THE PAINT HORSE

THE APPALOOSA HORSE

THE ARABIAN HORSE

THE QUARTER HORSE

PRINTS SUPPLIED BY BREED ASSOCIATIONS

The Oct. 7 evening arena program at the 1994 KILE will be the "Challenge of the Breeds." This show pits six internationally recognized horse breeds, the Appaloosa, the Arabian, the Paint, Half-Arabian, Quarter Horse, and Percheron, against each other in an evening of fun and mastery. The show will begin at 7 p.m. in the large arena.

The animals, two from each breed, will be chosen by their respective breed association. In order to compete, the horse must be owned by a Pennsylvania resident. An admission fee of $5.00 will be charged. The six events in which each horse will be entered include: Pleasure driving, english pleasure, hunter hack, western pleasure, western riding, and barrel racing. The horses will be judged at each of these events on a point system.

This marks the fifth time that a "Challenge of the Breeds" event has been held in Pennsylvania. The horses that participate must be high in confirmation and performance and also versatile.

Livestock Ledger

By Chester D. Hughes

Extension Livestock Specialist

It certainly hasn't been the best summer for cattle feeders and hog producers with market levels well below those of recent years. Penn State Agricultural Economist H. Louis Moore claims that help is just around the corner.

The battered cattle and hog industries will get some help this fall in the form of lower feed costs. Earlier fears of a hot, dry summer gave way in July to almost ideal corn and soybean weather.

The Outlook Board went out on a limb in July and forecast a nine billion bushel corn crop and a 2.155 billion bushel soybean crop for 1994. The previous record for corn was the 9.3 billion bushel crop harvested in 1992. But the weather since July has been so favorable that the USDA, in its upcoming forecast reports, will almost certainly revise the size of the crop upward. It is possible that a new record corn harvest could be set this fall.

At $2 per bushel, corn will encourage larger domestic use and higher exports while rebuilding stocks to about 1.55 billion bushels by September 1, 1995.

(Stocks on September 1, 1994, are expected to be about 800 million bushels.)

Swine Course Open to Producers

This fall, producers may attend undergraduate lectures and laboratory sessions in Penn State's Animal Science course, Swine Production and Management (An Sc 406). Attendance is free of charge, on a space-available basis. Taught by Ken Kephart, the course covers all aspects of swine production, including management, nutrition, genetics, facilities, and herd health. Producers will participate in many hands-on laboratory exercises, including artificial insemination, baby pig processing, feed grinding and mixing, and production simulation in a computer lab.

Lectures will be offered Mondays and Fridays from 9:05-9:55 a.m. Laboratories are taught on Wednesdays from 9:05-11 a.m. To participate, producers must call (814) 863-3668 at least one day in advance of the lecture or lab to ensure adequate space and materials.

For more information and a copy of the course outline, call or write Ken Kephart, The Pennsylvania State University, 324 Henning Building, University Park, PA 16802 (814) 863-3671.

Swine AI Workshop Planned
Swine producers interested in learning artificial insemination skills should reserve Thursday, November 10, on their calendar. The AI school will be conducted by Penn State Cooperative Extension with cooperation from local swine producers. The hands-on course will be presented at the West Lampeter Firehall and Fair-

Sunday Is Family Day At KILE

HARRISBURG (DAUPHIN CO.) — The Keystone International Livestock Exposition has scheduled Sunday, October 9, as a special day for the family. The day begins at 8 a.m. with a sunrise church service for the entire family.

The Expo encourages you to bring your family and enjoy the many attractions of the Livestock Exposition. Mo Vint will stroll with his steam engine through the complex and entertain you with harmonica demonstrations and vocals. Also, Blaze the Balloon Blowing Goat will be on hand entertaining everyone with the art of inflating a balloon.

Animals of Distinction will present three shows throughout the day to entertain you.

EGGSHELL FORMATION IS A DYNAMIC AND SENSITIVE PROCESS

An eggshell consists primarily of calcium carbonate. The manner by which calcium arrives at the eggshell was described in an earlier article (Lancaster Farming, May 14, 1994).

To review briefly, calcium is derived from food, is absorbed by the intestine, and is passed into the bloodstream. As blood passes through the shell gland, calcium leaves the blood, moves into and through the shell gland tissue, and precipitates onto the surface of the egg. Calcium is a positively charged ion and consequently precipitates out of solution when it interacts with appropriate negatively charged ions, such as carbonate.

Where does the carbonate ion come from? The short answer is from carbon dioxide, a metabolic waste product derived from the breakdown of glucose. Carbon dioxide is produced by all tissues and is expelled from the body mainly through exchange for oxygen in the lungs. The shell gland utilizes carbon dioxide produced by its own metabolism as well as by using CO₂ present in the bloodstream for making an eggshell. The conversion of CO₂ into carbonate requires combining CO₂ with water (H₂O). This results in the formation of carbonic acid (H₂CO₃). Carbonic acid spontaneously breaks down or dissociates in two steps to form two hydrogen ions (H⁺) and a carbonate ion (CO₃⁼). When the latter structure combines with a calcium ion (Ca⁺⁺), the ions precipitate out of solution.

Crystalline calcium carbonate is quite insoluble in water even though it precipitated out of an aqueous solution. It is relatively inert chemically because of the plus and minus charges balancing each other electrically in a dynamic equilibrium. About 100 million CO₃⁼ ions fitted end to end would be an inch long and Ca⁺⁺ ions are of a comparable size. The many replications of the CaCO₃ crystal structures interlock with each other in a three dimensional latticework called aragonite to form the eggshell. The chemical composition and crystal structure of the eggshell is similar to high quality limestone or high purity neat hydrated Portland cement. This gives a suggestion of how an eggshell can be such strong material, especially when in compression.

Carbonic acid forms whenever CO₂ and water are present. However, in the shell gland the spontaneous conversion of CO₂ into carbonic acid and subsequently into carbonate ions is not fast enough to support daily eggshell formation. This problem is solved by the presence of an enzyme in shell gland, carbonic anhydrase, which catalyzes (speeds the process without itself being consumed) carbonate formation. This catalytic material is a protein that is also found in many body tissues. It assists in the formation of carbonate-rich fluid in the chambers in the eye; it helps foster gas exchange in the lungs and the kidneys to form urine, to mention a few of the many roles of carbonic anhydrase.

When carbonic anhydrase is inhibited, different tissues are affected in different ways. Pressure build up in eyes during glaucoma can be relieved by inhibiting carbonic anhydrase. On the other hand, carbonic anhydrase inhibition causes the breathing rate to increase and causes the kidneys to form a watery urine. In the shell gland, inhibition of carbonic anhydrase causes a marked and rapid cessation of eggshell formation. Consequently, the hens' body must have an elaborate control mechanism to regulate metabolic CO₂ and resultant CO₃⁼ so that sufficient quantities are available for timely eggshell formation.

Various chemicals can affect carbonic anhydrase adversely. A relevant example is the problem that fish-eating birds had before the banning of DDT, which was relatively stable and therefore persistent in the environment. DDT was washed from the land into bodies of water where it entered fat stores in fish. Birds eating fish, such as ospreys and bald eagles, received high doses of DDT. Eggshell formation and subsequent development of the offspring was gravely impaired because of the inhibitory effect of DDT on carbonic anhydrase.

A final point concerns the importance of body levels of CO₂ for good eggshell formation. Birds maintain body temperature, not by sweating, but by panting. During bouts of hot weather or other types of heat stress panting rates can be high enough to cause a reduction in total body CO₂ to a level that results in thin-shelled eggs.

United Soybean Board Selects CEO

ST. LOUIS, Mo. — John Becherer has been selected as the new chief executive officer by the 63-member United Soybean Board (USB). Becherer serves as the senior director for development and programs at the Conservation Technology Information Center (CTIC), West Lafayette, Ind. He will begin his duties on October 1.

The all-farmer board selected Becherer by unanimously approving a recommendation from their search and executive committees at their quarterly meeting. "John is a consensus builder who can help unify the industry," said USB Chairman and Fulton, Mich. farmer Barry Mumby. "John will work to more closely involve states with USB activities and programs. We want to assure state organizations that there's a two-way street at USB and that we look forward to their participation in USB projects. John's history as a consensus builder will be instrumental in that effort."

Becherer views his new position as an opportunity to continue his career-long crusade to help farmers farm more profitably. "I want to help make soybeans as profitable as they can be," said Becherer. "I look forward to working with an organization that promotes the profitability of agriculture producers."

Prior to working for CTIC, Becherer worked as a consultant for Demeter Inc., the nation's 10th largest grain merchandising firm. The position helped Becherer develop an international view of the challenges that face soybean growers. "We don't live in a microcosm. We're in a global economy," said Becherer. "To make soybeans profitable, we must continue to research for new uses of soybeans and expand export markets."

Becherer looks forward to a smooth transition into the CEO slot at USB. "I don't anticipate any rapid change," he said. "USB is in a situation where they're moving forward in a positive and appropriate manner. I think soybean farmers will recognize USB as an organization that truly meets the needs of the farming community. I invite input from all soybean farmers in that regard."

Youth Production Class Set For Barrows

HARRISBURG
(DAUPHIN CO.) —
The Keystone International Livestock Exposition will be held October 6-10 here at the Farm Show Complex.

Exhibitors from Pennsylvania can enter one or two pigs in a barrows class, plus other animals that would be entered in the regular junior barrow show.

In June the pigs were weighed and identified at the farm. Now they have been brought to the exposition for final evaluation.

Pigs will be judged on-foot, but they will also be judged on the basis of weight gain and carcass merit. This will reward junior exhibitors not only for good genetics, but sound swine management as well.

To date, approximately 43 animals have been entered in this class, representing about 28 Pennsylvania youth. All pigs weighed in June had to be less than 50 pounds.

Premiums in this class are $500 for the champion and $250 for the reserve. The primary purpose of this class is to tell how much muscle an animal puts on each day, thus giving breeders more information on feed conversions and feed efficiencies.

Kubota Introduces Grand L Series Tractors

TORRANCE, Calif. — Ranging from 24.5 to 36 PTO horsepower, Kubota Tractor Corporation's new Grand L Series tractors (L 2900/L3300/L3600/L4200 models) are designed to deliver top performance for farm, utility, and turf applications.

The new Grand L Series tractors are equipped with hydrostatic steering, shuttle transmission, and shift-on-the-go for optimal comfort and ease of operation. Transmission choices are the unique new Kubota Glide Shift transmission or a fully-synchronized main and shuttle transmission.

Loaders, backhoes, box scrapers and tillers are among the Performance-Matched implements enhancing the new L's versatility. The smaller models can accommodate 60- or 72-inch midmount mowers that are compatible with loaders. A 3-point snowblower

Brillion Introduces No-Till, Deep Ripper

BRILLION, Wis. — Brillion no-till deep ripper, the Compaction Commander, is available in a pull-type model. Like its companion product, the newer model provides trouble-free operation in even the heaviest residue.

"The pull-type Compaction Commander joins the three-point Compaction Commander and the Landcommander™ in our line of tillage equipment," said Michael Irish, Brillion's marketing Manager. "They all feature the same auto-reset shanks for non-stop, uniform, deep tillage. Plus, both Compaction Commander models have 39 inches of underframe clearance, which lets you tackle heavy residue with ease."

The new pull-type model adds set-back brackets for better trash flow in grassy conditions, Irish said. Additionally, hydraulic gauge wheels control the shank

Unit Improves Milking Systems

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — The new Harmony® Milker Unit from Alfa Laval Agri offers a simple way for dairy farmers to upgrade their milking systems.

The Harmony unit's unique blend of milking technologies work together to save time and increase profits. The Harmony unit contributes to better herd health, provides faster milkout, and improves milk quality.

The Harmony unit offers a large, 12 millimeter milk tube for exceptional milk flow from the teat end to the claw. Harmony liners are attached directly to the upper part of the claw, meaning that there are no restrictions from milk inlet nipples. This combination helps to achieve a smoother, faster, and more complete milkout.

The Harmony Milker Unit is extremely lightweight, with the unit weighing only 4.08 pounds and the claw 1.19 pounds, making it easy for the operator to manage. European ergonomical studies have shown a significant reduction in workload when the milk operator is handling a light weight Harmony unit as compared to a conventional milking unit.

Harmony liners save time and effort as well. The liners feature a puncture-resistant design to lengthen the life of the liner and to reduce the number of changes due to damaged liners. The liners are also designed to enable the short milk tube to close easily, yet completely, over the shut-off bracket to reduce vacuum loss and enhance vacuum stability within the system.

Hoffman Seeds Introduces Customer Response Guarantee

LANDISVILLE, (Lancaster Co.)—Hoffman Seeds, Inc. is now offering customers a 48-hour response guarantee.

The new program guarantees that every customer inquiry coming into the company's Landisville office will receive a response within 48 hours. If a Hoffman representative fails to respond within that time, the customers will be given a $100 credit toward the next purchase of Hoffman or Funk's G® brand products.

"We're committed to servicing our customers' needs," said Yvonne Williamson, customer service representative. "It's important that customers receive fast answers to their questions whether it relates to product, invoicing or personnel."

Hoffman customers can call (800) 776-7929 from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. with their questions.

Ruppel Joins Pioneer

WEST DES MOINES, Iowa — Kurt Ruppel has joined the Microbial Genetics Division of Pioneer Hi-Bred International, Inc., as a microbial products specialist.

Ruppel will be responsible for working with Pioneer sales representatives in the sales and service of Pioneer® brand silage, high moisture grain, and hay inoculants. He will also promote direct-fed microbials for livestock through animal health distributors and dealers. His territory includes New York, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Vermont, New Hampshire, and Maine.

Ruppel received bachelor's and master's degrees in animal science from Cornell University in 1979 and 1992, respectively. He has been a dairy specialist with Cornell Cooperative Extension in Hudson Falls, since 1988.

Prior to his extension work, Ruppel was herd manager at Allenwaite Farms, Inc., in Schaghticoke, N.Y. and farm business partner at Denman Farms in Livingston Manor, N.Y.

Toggle Trip On Subsoiler Eliminates Shear Bolt

LITCHFIELD, Ill. — A new toggle trip that resets to eliminate replacing shear bolts is available on Worksaver's Terra Max™ I subsoiler.

The Terra Max shatters hardpan down to 20 inches, eliminating compaction and maximizing soil aeration, root penetration, and moisture permeation.

Equipped with patented, durable helical curved shanks, the Terra Max I raises soil 3 to 5 inches for conditioning, yet leaves soil structure intact. It does not disturb residue, ensuring sufficient cover remains to minimize wind and water erosion. Shanks have replaceable points and angled tips that help to lift the

Ephrata Fair Holds Livestock Sale

EPHRATA (Lancaster Co.) — Eighty hogs and six lambs hit the auction block last week at the Ephrata Fair Livestock Sale.

In the market swine sale, hogs brought an average of 74 cents per pound from the 17 buyers for a sale total of $14,870.

Cory Pfautz, Lititz, sold his 260-pound grand champion market hog for $2.30 per pound to Hatfield Quality Meats. He also sold his 230-pound lightweight champion to Blue Lake Builders for 95 cents per pound.

Tom Zartman of Ephrata sold his 248-pound reserve grand champion market hog for $2.12 per pound to Blue Lake Builders. Tom also sold his 234-pound lightweight reserve champion for $1.01 per pound to Blue Lake Builders. He sold his 250-pound light heavyweight reserve champion to Bernard Morrissey Insurance for 90 cents per pound.

Justin Good sold his 246-pound medium weight reserve champion to Gehman Feed for 85 cents per pound. Gerald Boyd sold his 264-pound heavyweight champion for 80 cents per pound to Hatfield Quality Meats. Renee Hoover sold her 268-pound heavyweight reserve champion for 91 cents per pound to Ephrata National Bank.

In the carcass lamb sale, Kendall Reiff sold his 110-pound grand champion lamb to Willie the Butcher for $2.75 per pound. Sarah Boyd sold her 96-pound reserve grand champion lamb to Core States Bank for $2.50 per pound.

Sarah Boyd, left, sold her 96-pound reserve grand champion lamb to Core States Bank, represented by Darvin Boyd, for $2.50 per pound.

Estate Planning Workshop Set

CREAMERY (Montgomery Co.) — The Penn State and Rutgers Cooperative Extension are sponsoring an estate planning workshop on October 10 from 8.30 a.m. until 4 p.m. to be held at the Holiday Inn at Bethlehem, just off Route 22 and 512.

This workshop has been planned to provide the best available and current information on estate planning. The topics to be included are wills, trusts and estate planning documents; estate tax consideration; estate administration; guardianship; long term care and asset protection; pre-arranged funeral planning; and transfer of family business or farm.

Workshop instructors will include local attorneys Sally Schoffstall of Frank, Frank, Penn and Bergstein of Allentown; Stanley M. Vasiliadis of Bethlehem; and Donald A. Zamborsky of Allentown; and funeral director Joseph Reichel of Reichel Funeral Homes, Inc. of Nazareth and Northampton. Other instructors include: Charlotte Hartmann-Hansen, CLU, ChFC of Bethlehem and Nazareth area; Randy Setzer, Accountant-Farm Credit Financial Service, Fogelsville; and Duane L. Stevenson, Jr., Penn State Cooperative Extension Agent.

Pre-registration for the program is $25 for single and $35 for couple, which includes refreshments, lunch and workshop reference materials. (Registration after October 3 will be $30 for single and $40 for couple.)

Registration brochures and information are available at the Northampton or Lehigh County Extension offices or by calling either office at (610) 746-1970 or (610) 391-9840.

Youth Contests Featured At KILE

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — The 17th Annual Keystone Stockmen's Contest, a youth activity in the program of the KILE Show, is scheduled for Monday, October 10. The contest is open to all 4-H and FFA members. These members will also compete as individuals.

Registration begins at 8 a.m. and the contest concludes at 4:30 p.m. This allows a group to participate in the contest, view the livestock and horse shows in progress, and return home the same day.

Prizes are awarded for the winners. The high scoring team wins $100 as well as ribbons. The individual high score wins $75, with prizes going to the top 30 participants. All others will receive participation ribbons.

The five highest placing contestants in the overall individual scores are interviewed by a committee of three officials. The interview consists of questions on management, health, showing and current events concerning the livestock industry.

The winner of this award will receive $250 and a permanent trophy.

For more information on the contest, contact Charles Itle, manager of the KILE Show, (717) 624-3258.

Blacksmith's Days At Farm Museum

WESTMINSTER, Md. — On Saturday, October 1, and Sunday, October 2, the Blacksmith Guild of Central Maryland and the Carroll County Farm Museum will present the fifth annual "Blacksmith's Days," rain or shine.

The events for the day will include forging demonstrations from noon to 3 p.m., a hands-on opportunity for the public to forge 1 p.m. to 3 p.m., and an auction or sale of handforged items and blacksmith related materials at the end of each day.

Food will be available both days.

Special demonstrations will be held each morning starting at 9 a.m. featuring the well-known artist-blacksmith Peter Happny of Portsmouth, N.H. Admission to this morning session will be $5 each day. Gates will open at 8:30 a.m. for this morning event only.

General admission to the Farm Museum applies. Adults are $3; 12 to 18, 60 and over, $2; and under 12, free.

BARN CLEANERS

All-forged Hook-Link® chain... available on Super 300 and Super 500 barn cleaners

Extra thick steel at all wear points

IMPORTANT: Look for the "parting line" on any barn cleaner chain you buy. It shows where excess metal has been trimmed off. It is your assurance that the link was totally forged, not just punched out of a flat steel bar with grain flow in one direction only.

You want a totally-forged link because forging changes the grain on the steel, causing it to curve in unbroken flow lines around the contours of the link, giving the link greater strength to serve you longer.

CONSIDER THE MANY CONCRETE ADVANTAGES!

"A GOOD JULY RAIN GROWS A LOT OF GRAIN!"

With The Prospect Of A Good Corn Crop, It's Time For Many Producers To Make Decisions Concerning Storage.

16'x68'
about 10,000 bu. cap.
Shelled Corn
Poured Concrete
No Used Silos!
No Rebuilt Silos!
No Preowned Silos!!

In order to avoid hauling and drying costs, let us build a corn storage unit to preserve your valuable grain at 20%-30% moisture.

To keep your stored corn bright and yellow, you must protect it from oxygen and heat. Our 6" thick concrete walls reflect 38% of light beams, resulting in 780 times more heat-resisting ability than steel, and 25 times more insulating power than steel.

Our 6" thick walls have a very low leak potential compared to pre-fab silos of any kind, and a very low maintenance requirement.

BEFORE SPENDING A LOT OF MONEY FOR ENERGY TO DRY YOUR CORN, YOU WILL DO WELL TO CONSIDER THE
MANY ADVANTAGES OF OUR POURED CONCRETE SILOS...

To unload your corn, we can install the simple auger system, the Laidig 43 unloader, or the Flying Dutchman. Let's discuss the options, and what is best for your situation.

THE VAN DALE

TILLAGE
APPLICATOR

Van Dale's newest generation of liquid manure applicators is based on a simple, yet superior design. The Shallow Tillage Applicator consists of a double row of nine heavy duty cultivator shanks, evenly spaced, to provide maximum mixing action of top soil and liquid manure. All shanks are equipped with 9" sweeps to attack the soil and give consistent application and excellent soil agitation across a 12' width. The result is more manure nutrients available to plant roots because incorporation is done between 3" to 6" deep—ideal for crop utilization.

SURFACE DRIVE SILO UNLOADERS

Smart farmers look to Van Dale for all the right moves when it comes to surface drive technology. Even frozen and hard packed silage and haylage are no match for Van Dale's Magnum and SD 2000. Now Van Dale offers even greater efficiency with its DURAGLIDE® Impeller available on the SD
2000. The Duraglide lessens gummy buildups, uses less power and provides faster and more reliable delivery.

Make a move in the right direction to Van
Dale. Leaders of the pack since 1950!

Rural Economy

Cost-efficient Centurydrain™ roofing and siding is on some of the best looking buildings in the country.
Build with Centurydrain roofing and siding and you've built a money-wise structure. Full-hard, high tensile galvanized steel, and an exclusive drain channel for a dry interior give you a building that'll handle years of hard duty and hard weather. Good looking, too. Crisp lines and plenty of bright, long-lasting colors make Wheeling Centurydrain as handsome as it is economical.

DAIRY FARM EQUIPMENT

Offer

Scroll-Compressor Technology

New in 1994

You may pay less for some dairy farm equipment... but it can cost you more!

In the long run, total operating costs of a Mueller milk-cooling system are generally substantially less than those of "bargain-brand" milk-cooling equipment.

Example	Mueller	Competition
Cost of equipment	$31,000	$28,000
Cost of electricity @ .08 kW for 12,000 lbs milk/day for 10 years	$17,550	$22,850
Total operating cost for ten years	$48,550	$50,850
Savings	$2,300

SWEETCAKE 16NU

FEED SUPPLEMENT BLOCKS FOR THE LIVESTOCK INDUSTRY

- High Natural Protein • No Urea • Fat Enhanced
- Balanced Supplementation • Safe For All Livestock Classes

Sweetcake Advantages

- Aids in making the best use of your available forage
- Promotes a more even herd consumption, with 24-hour availability to all cattle
- Reduces labor to save you money and give you more time to make important management decisions
- Supplies much-needed vitamins and minerals that forage lacks to help your cattle perform to their genetic potential
- Supplies fat in most formulations to enhance energy intake

For Dairy

- Replacement heifers that grow out soundly and economically
- Body condition on dry cows so they can return to lactation, producing at the maximum potential

- Healthier herds, with essential trace minerals that help prevent metritis, retained placenta and other health problems
- Prompt re-breeding, thanks to essential nutrients

For Beef

- Stronger, healthier calves at birth
- Heavier Calves at weaning

- Cows that cycle better for improved conception rates
- Cows that milk better to raise a better calf

- AVAILABLE IN 200 LB. SIZE -

The JUG

passes the
"winter of '93-'94" test

Remember the c-c-c-c-cold winter of '93-'94? Wondering what the next one will bring and how your herd will fair?

Install the energy-efficient JUG to reduce concerns about freezing cattle fountains. Even in the coldest weather, the JUG performed, while the competition's waterers did not.

While the JUG's thick urethane insulation keeps the winter cold out, its patented drawtube recirculates water. Cooler bowl water exchanges with warmer reservoir water to keep bowl water open. The JUG will do its job.

A cold weather test conducted by an Iowa college during the winter of
'94 demonstrated its energy efficiency. The JUG used only 108 kilowatts of electricity over four months for a cost of $8.64. A competitor's waterer used 816 kilowatts, costing $65.28, almost eight times as much. The test confirmed the JUG's energy efficiency.

No other waterer equals the Jug for clean, palatable water. Low maintenance, the JUG also meets the requirements for dairy approval.

REPLACING HOG FLOORING? CONSIDERING NEW CONSTRUCTION?

✓ CHECK OUT Polygrate™

Heavy Duty Hog Flooring

Time Tested and Proven
This style of POLYGRATE was first introduced in 1981. Over the years Farcox has continued to refine this product. POLYGRATE is one of only a few "World Class" floors that has stood this test of time.

Outstanding Traction
POLYGRATE'S unique "high-low" finger design provides outstanding traction for pigs of all sizes, while enhancing safety and comfort.

◆ POLYGRATE'S rounded corners minimize injuries. The edges are beveled providing a smoother, safer surface that promotes comfort, too.

What Does This All Add Up To?

- ◆ More piglets survive until weaning
- ◆ Less splay/spraddle leg problems
- ◆ Heavier piglets at weaning
- ◆ Better conditioned sows at weaning

FOR A COMPLETE JOB WASHING DISINFECTING AND FUMIGATING

COMPLETE RODENT CONTROL PROGRAM

WE DO THERMAL FOGGING

- Disinfects • Insecticide • Long Lasting Fog

Kills all types of beetles and insects in hard to reach areas that cause structural damage. We recommend fogging in addition to our regular spraying.

COMPLETE PEST CONTROL PROGRAM

Programs available for rodent, fly and beetle control. We can tailor a program to suit your needs. Don't let rats and mice eat your profits!

INVITATION FOR BIDS

The Lancaster Conservation District is requesting bids for the construction of three separate Manure Storage systems, to be funded in part by the Chesapeake Bay Program Construction will need to be completed by December 1, 1994. The sites are in southern Lancaster County, located in Sadsbury Township, Colerain Township, and Bart Township.

Prospective contractors can receive any one or all bid packages which contain Instructions to Bidders, a sample contract form, the plans and specifications for the project, and a bid sheet.

Small and minority businesses and women's business enterprises are encouraged to respond to this invitation for bids.

The site showings will take place on October 5th, 9:00 A.M. at the Sadsbury Township site, and 10:30 A.M. at the Colerain Township site. The Bart Township project site showing will be by request only, as this project is being rebid (a site showing was held September 7, 1994). Sealed bids will be accepted until the public bid opening in the Conference Room of the Farm & Home Center on October 12, 1994. To obtain a bid package, contact the Lancaster County Conservation District at:

Anything Less Isn't Good Enough

If livestock is your business, Eby Gooseneck Trailers include these features to protect the livestock you transport:

- Durable all-aluminum construction with less weight for more payload
- Axles, wheels, tires and brakes that are designed to carry the weight the trailer will hold
- Gates and doors designed for easy loading/unloading
- Proven post and slat design to control airflow and easily close up for winter conditions
- Aerodynamic design to improve fuel economy

Eby Gooseneck Trailers are available in lengths from 12 to 32 feet with a choice of widths and inside heights. We offer every custom option, including stainless steel front end for great looks.

Whatever kind of livestock you transport, you can rely on EBY products to do the job right.

Eby custom-builds bodies and trailers for all types of livestock, grain and farm commodities.

FEED CONTROL...
The chain feeding system does not dictate a feeding program. You are in control feeding exactly what is needed, as little or as much as you want when you want.

BIG DUTCHMAN STAK CAGES

- Thick manure belts carry waste to the end of the building. Without manure storage in the building, air quality is improved.
- Environmental concerns of today and the future are reduced with this system. Be among the first to be a good neighbor.
- Walkways tie into sides of existing or new building to provide strength.
- Our feed trough fits snugly on the cage. This provides strength, and protects eggs as they move to the egg belt. The straight inner side of the trough also acts as a manure shield.
- Our cage is designed and constructed to control egg roll, significantly reducing crax and providing cleaner eggs.
- STAK cages are designed for 3 tiers up to 8 tiers high.
- Sliding horizontal wire rod doors open the full width of the cage.
- STAK cages are available with specially designed air ducts in each cage to provide fresh air to each bird.
- Walkway structure allows access to all cage tiers.
- Reduces building costs and increases bird capacity.
- Our feeder delivers feed to the birds uniformly, amply, and with great reliability. The design of the system helps to keep eggs cleaner, and the superior suspension method makes the entire cage row stronger.
- System available with combination step-rail and cart guide.

Big Dutchman®

Couple the Big Dutchman cages with a Hershey-designed building and equipment installation and you have an unbeatable combination for service and efficiency. A Hershey system is better ventilated, and has been proven to use less electricity.

Big Dutchman's policy is one of continuous improvement

"PAMPER" EGG COLLECTION ... The Big Dutchman vertical egg collection unit is unsurpassed in pampering eggs.

QUALITY EGG BELT... We offer our standard 3 1/4 inch woven fabric belts. A shallow "V" shape in the wire egg tray keeps eggs in the center.

DISCHARGE OPTIONS... Eggs can be discharged from the collector below the floor, at floor level, or at a varying height discharge which best suits your house.

PROVEN ROD CONVEYOR... The rod conveyor moves eggs from the collector to the packer with no rolling or colliding. It can move up and down inclines, and is ideal for moving eggs between several houses and the packing room in multi-building farms.

Gelsinger, Newpher Take Home Top Awards At Reading Steer Show

ANDY ANDREWS
Lancaster Farming Staff
READING (Berks Co.) — While heavy winds and rains raged outside the show tent, Troy Gelsinger held fast to "Pride," a 1,130-pound Angus/Chianina/Maine Anjou crossbred steer. In the end, Troy went on to win grand champion of the market steer show last week at the Reading Fair.

Troy, 17, son of Larry and Delores Gelsinger, is a senior at Conrad Weiser High School. The steer was from the heavy light-weight class.

Show judge Howard Hoffman, farm manager at Dunwalke Farms, Fair Hills, N.J., said he belived the steers in the show were "more than adequate" for the market and would meet industry standards. But Troy's stood out because of the steer's top, smooth shoulder and rib, and depth in loin, according to Hoffman.

Hoffman, who raises Polled Herefords at Dunwalke Farms, picked Kelly Dietrich's "Blizzard" (named for the Blizzard of '93), a purebred Angus, as reserve champion. Kelly, 9, daughter of Jim and Karen Dietrich, Hamburg, is in the fourth grade at Schuylkill Valley Elementary School. Her steer weighed 1,235 pounds, from the light heavyweight class.

Hoffman picked the Simmental shown by Tom Newpher, Fleetwood, as champion of the breed show. Reserve went to the Hereford shown by Emilie Miller, Womelsdorf.

Jason Kleinfelter, 18, son of Teresa Kleinfelter, Wernersville, won champion showman. Reserve went to Troy Gelsinger. Grand champion fitter went to Troy's sister, Tammy Gelsinger, and reserve fitter to Jeremy Manwiller.

In all, about 28 exhibitors braved the elements, including fierce winds and heavy rains, in the show, which included 29 steers and 21 heifers. Following is a list of show placings.

Mixing T.M.R. the Way You Want

Open-Top Mixers

- Four notched augers mix fast—even square-baled dry alfalfa in limited amounts
- Self-aligning auger bearings mounted outside. Flanged auger tubes for easy removal
- Planetary gear reducer and roller chain reduction power the augers. Roller chains operate in sealed oil bath
- On trailer and truck models, the discharge door and discharge augers are controlled hydraulically
- 8 sizes from 190 to 575 cubic feet.

Tumble Mixers

- Tumble mixing plus a central spiral circulator moving ingredients to the back of the drum while flitting moves ingredients forward.
- No internal bearings
- Low maintenance — only 3 grease fittings
- 4 sizes from 135 to 290 cubic feet.

NASDA Elects Boyd Wolff Vice President

NEW ORLEANS — Pennsylvania Agriculture Secretary Boyd E. Wolff was recently elected to serve as vice president of the National Association of State Departments of Agriculture (NASDA) during that organization's annual meeting in New Orleans.

Wolff, a long-time member of the NASDA Board of Directors, previously served as secretary-treasurer of the organization and has been chairman of NASDA's Dairy, Food and Drug Committee.

"It's an honor to serve in a leadership role for an organization like NASDA," Wolff said.

"During this annual meeting we've examined some key issues for American farmers - issues like pushing the U.S. Congress to remove the prohibition on the interstate shipment of state-inspected meat. That issue is very important to small business owners and agri-businesses."

Delegates to the NASDA annual meeting also discussed governmental jurisdiction for wetlands issues, enforcement of Worker Protection Standards (WPS) for agricultural pesticides, and private property rights.

In addition, NASDA unveiled a unique national approach to generate rural jobs through an effort to commercialize new products and new uses for agricultural materials. That effort is a joint project between USDA's Alternative Agricultural Research and Commercialization Center (AARC) and NASDA's Research and Education Foundation.

NASDA is a nonprofit association of public officials representing the commissioners, secretaries and directors of agriculture in the 50 states and four territories.

IT ALSO CUTS MANHOURS.

When you're doing high-capacity haying, our Hesston 1160 Hydro Swing Mower Conditioner gets right down to business.

We built it with a center-pivot design that gives you all the benefits of a self-propelled—without the extra expense. And it's made for consistent, even cutting.

Once you've entered your fields, the 1160's fully engaged 110" conditioner gets to work for fast drying and even, well-conditioned windrows. You can even adjust the forming shields to produce everything from a swath to Hesston's unique fluffy windrow. Whatever the crop conditions, the 1160 tailors itself so you can harvest the highest quality hay and save lots of time in the process.

Rock Pickers & Rakes NOW!

REMOVE ROCKS BEFORE FALL SEEDING
We Have 2 Models 6000 Rock Pickers Ready To Work
1 Hyd. and 1 PTO Unit

Grated Hopper Bottom
We use spring steel straps in the hopper instead of using mild steel. The hopper is engineered to bounce back in shape.

Hydraulic Drive
The most popular drive on rock pickers is hydraulic which is standard on the 6000. We have incorporated a relief valve to take away the shock when disengaging the drive.

Flotation Tires
The 16.5Lx16.1 flotation tires are standard equipment and are a must to reduce soil compaction.

may be all the picker you'll need!

Reel Assembly
We are using the same reel as the proven Super Picker 6800. The three paddle reel has a large diameter, hard surfaced teeth and heavy duty paddles.

Swing Pole
The manual swing pole is easy to maneuver in both working or transport position.

Solid Shaft Grill Tines with Replaceable Grill Tips.
This modern grill is easier to maintain, has longer life giving you less down time. The unique grill provides five feet of clean sifting and virtually jamless performance.

4600 & 5700 Series

The Degelman 4600 & 5700 hydraulic angle Bulldozer Blades attach to both front wheel assist and two wheel drive farm tractors. They incorporate a clean looking, low profile design and are built strong with tough, heavy duty construction to achieve a dozer blade that's ready to tackle demanding farm jobs.

Ease of operation, built-in quality and the convenience of finger tip hydraulic angle control are only a few of the many features you'll appreciate.

Binkley &
Hurst Bros., Inc.
Has A Culti-Mulcher With Quality Features

Weight Transfer is needed on some fields for best mulching results. Unique Farmhand system allows weight to be distributed between the front and rear rollers and the draw bar as needed.

Bearings on torsion-mounted hangers and roller tool bars combine with split roller axes to isolate shock loads. Up to 12 triple-lip sealed, self-aligning ball bearings are used on the main frame of each machine.

Complete Seedbed Preparation in One Pass

Here is how Farmhand Mulchers prepare perfect seedbeds in a single pass. (1) Surface clods are crushed into small particles by the front rollers. (2) Buried clods are then brought to the surface by two rows of looped "C" lines or Danish vibrating lines. (3) The rear set of rollers crumbles these clods, firms the seedbed, presses out the air pockets and leaves a fine seedbed for planting.

Mulching Makes You Money

Mulching your soil gives you better yields in two ways. First, loosely packed seedbeds with many clods allow moisture to evaporate quickly through the air pockets. Lost moisture reduces the speed of germination and gives your crops a less efficient start. Mulching creates a finer, clod-free seedbed with few air pockets and gives your crop a uniform start throughout the field. Moisture rises at just the right rate from the water table below to the seedbed.

Secondly, the small roots of sprouting seeds need a ready supply of soil nutrients. Feeder root systems of small plants in poorly prepared seedbeds cannot break through the clods and reach out for nourishment. Mulched soil allows the feeder roots to reach out in all directions. Thus, nourishment flows through the roots to build strong, fast-growing plants that give you better yields.

There's nothing more important to a crop than early even emergence. To get it, you need accurate, even seeding.

The 5300 has earned a reputation for its seeding precision, a function of its exclusive feed cup design and dependable disk openers. And, to improve placement of seed, the opener drawbars are heavier than on previous models. Press wheels and opener bearings are heavier for long life operation.

Along with accuracy,
the 5300 gives you fast, high capacity seeding, so you spend less time refilling hoppers. Grass seeding attachment for 16x7.

Horst Running Gears Come from Binkley & Hurst Bros. Inc.
A Very Important Standard Feature On All Horst Wagons From 8-10-12-13 and 14 Ton Is This Unique Roller Bearing Steering.

On all model wagons the steering assemblies are mounted on Taper Roller Bearings. Over 20 years field service has proven that this feature plus ball-in socket tie rod ends assures long life and no sway trailing.

12 - 13 and 14 Ton Gears Double Reach Coupling Poles Means Double Strength

The Double Reach Feature does not cause any problem about flexibility.

What good is a combine without people behind it?

HOOBER PEOPLE KNOW

case ih axial flow combines!

You can't go anywhere in Pennsylvania and get combine service support like you get at HOOBERS.

HOOBER has:

- 1) (5) factory-trained mechanics who work full time on combines - 2 have worked on combines since IH introduced the 1st axial-flow in 1977.
- 2) (5) combine service trucks, fully-equipped with welders, air compressors, hoists, combine parts so they can go to the problem and fix it fast.
- 3) A service manager just for combines. Don Carper has managed Hooper's combine service department for 15 years.

Don Carper

IT'S TIME FOR YOU TO TRY A HOOBER-RECONDITIONED COMBINE!

Hooper's reconditioned axial flow combines aren't finished after 1,500 hours; or 2,500 hours, or 3,500 hours or 4,500 hours or (?) hours!

It can eliminate 40% of all your engine maintenance problems.

A Deutz AirDiesel is a true no-nonsense engine. There are no troublesome components such as hoses, fans and radiators associated with liquid-cooled engines. A Deutz is cooled by air and is engineered to save you up to 20% in fuel over other diesels.
Over one million AirDiesels from 5 to 500 HP are working in all fields of application throughout the world.

ZIMMERMAN'S FARM SERVICE

1/4 Mile West Off Rt. 501 On School Rd., Bethel, Pa.

717-933-4114

We redesigned the GLEANER® rotary from header to spreader with fewer moving belts and chains. So you get greater reliability and reduced maintenance during harvest. And now, three of four models* offer you an engine choice — a high torque rise Cummins diesel or a low maintenance air-cooled Deutz, both loaded with power to spare. Check out the combine that's built for greater reliability and backed by a strong AGCO warranty and superior service — the GLEANER rotary. Visit your local AGCO GLEANER dealer today. And ask about flexible AGCO financing.

* Not available with Deutz air-cooled engine only.

JAGUAR 690/685/682 SL, 682 S

High quality feed means satisfied customers for you

Your JAGUAR provides for a good quality of chop and forage break-down. You supply first rate basic feed. And your customers rely on it.

Precisely chopped, efficiently harvested with all the kernels broken down — this is how top quality silage has to be.

The CLAAS chopping system with five intake and precompression rollers, effortless shear bar adjustment with visual control, the revolutionary V-type cylinder and corn cracker, all ensure excellent chop.

Looking for a better combine?
Look to Massey Ferguson first.

Ever since Massey Ferguson introduced the very first self-propelled combine, they've been the preferred choice of some of the world's most demanding customers.

It's a legacy of which we're extremely proud. And it's an obligation we take very seriously. The new MF 8450 and 8460 combines are a proud addition to this Massey Ferguson tradition for quality, performance and reliability.

Plus they offer exciting new features that demonstrate the continuing Massey Ferguson commitment to providing you with the best value in combines.

Sponsors Assist In KILE Production

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — To date, 12 exhibitors have signed up to exhibit their wares at the 1994 Trade Show of the Keystone International Livestock Exposition.

The trade show will be set up in a central area of the Farm Show Complex and will provide "red carpet" treatment to its visitors. An actual red carpet will line the way through the trade show.

The companies who will attend are Agri-Business Insurance Agency, Inc., PO Box 2726, York, PA 17405 - (717) 741-0911; Altmeyer's Western West, RD 1, Kittanning, PA 16201 - (412) 545-1281; Ambassador Home Improvements, 3907 N. Front St., Harrisburg, PA 17110 - (717) 234-2900; Hallock's Enterprises, PO Box 36, Genesee, PA 16923 - (814) 228-3288; Healthy

Hair Care, PO Box 7, Sellersville, PA 18960 - (800) 253-0286; Hoosier Stitch, Inc., R 2, Box 264, Clayton, IN 46118 - (317) 539-4970; Miller Diesel, Inc., 6030 Jonestown Rd., Harrisburg, PA 17112 -(717) 545-5931; Permanent Impressions, PO Box 304, Jacksonstown, OH 43030 - (614) 522-6971; R-Place Originals, Gertrude Avenue, RD 1, Phoenixville, PA 19460 - (215) 666-0391; Rocky Mountain Livestock Journal, 425 W. Griggs, Las Cruces, NM - 88005 (505) 527-8616; Scottsdale Supply Company, RR 1, Box 401, Scottsdale, PA 15683 - (412) 887-5500; Sigler's Sheepy Shack, 3055 N. KILE Continues Assurance Program

HARRISBURG (DAUPHIN CO.) — As a safeguard to the consuming public's views on safe food products and the recent United States Food and Drug Administration's decision to "check" Junior Livestock Show Animals at slaughter and before for illegal residues, the Keystone International Livestock Exposition has implemented a Whole-some Meat Animal Assurance Program for the 1994 year.

The exposition knows that it is important that exhibitors abide in the safe use of the products which may cause a residue problem. This is the only way the exposition can ensure that every market animal exhibited for slaughter be fed and maintained in a proper manner in order to provide a safe and wholesome product to the consuming public. The expo urges exhibitors to abstain from the use of any drugs whatsoever, but if it is necessary to use the drugs, the Expo urges exhibitors to abide within the legal withdrawal limits before slaughter.

Each exhibitor is required to complete a certification form stating that no drugs were used or listing the dates which the medication was administered. not only is the youth required to sign, but also the parent. The form must be turned in at weigh-in.

GEHL

NORTH AMERICA'S #1 V-TANK SPREADER

The Gehl Scavenger® II is the "original" V-Tank spreader and still the best. It delivers outstanding performance in all types of manure, from liquid to semi-solid to pen-packed or even frozen manure.

- Patented square-tube auger — Hydraulically powers up and down to break up solid material.
- Variflo discharge — Spreads smoothly and evenly for complete application control.
- Five models — From 192 to 596 bushel heaped capacities to match your operation.
- 10-Year warranty — Against rust-through on the tank for peace of mind.
- Options include — Truck-mounted units and hydraulic lifts.

UNMATCHED CAPACITY

Gehl forage harvesters get the job done faster with these performance features:

- Exclusive Auto-Max Load-Sensing System — Increase capacity by up to 20%. Lets you operate at top capacity without the fear of downtime due to overloading.
- Metal-Stop Metal Detector — Prevents machine damage and hardware disease.
- In-head Hydraulic Knife Sharpener — Lets you sharpen knives in the field.
- Patented One-Sided Cutterbar Adjustment — Makes adjusting the cutterbar quick and easy.
- Three Models To Choose From — Including the largest capacity pull-type forage harvester on the market.

It's 1994, time to start looking for that future champion steer. We have already been looking. I toured the West again and bought all the thick calves I saw. They come from Iowa, Nebraska, Colorado and Kansas. We have taken the work out of looking for truly good calves to bring them for your inspection. These calves will be all you ever expected in Western bred club calves. Along with our deep set of home bred calves, they will be worth your time to see. I have received many phone calls from 1993 buyers about their champion steers purchased last year. The response has been overwhelming. The calves will all be wormed, vaccinated, pre-conditioned and broke to tie.

FREE FOOD FOR ALL DAIRY FARMERS

Introducing...

A dairy feed that could make your cows more productive, while also improving their feed conversion and breeding efficiency.

SUPER-EXT is a blend of high fat nuggets and pellets specially designed and manufactured by Purina to deliver feed quality, nutrient density and super palatability. The nutrient-rich blend is placed with complete nutrition and is highly palatable.

In field trials, cows fed SUPER-EXT produced an average of 6.7 pounds more milk per cow per day, while improving or maintaining milk composition. And while production increased, the cows that were fed SUPER-EXT maintained or improved their body-condition scores after freshening and were more-feed efficient.

Research Results
	Milk	Milk lbs/day	Milk Protein lbs/day
Control Average Production	100	3.24	2.83
Super-Ext Average Production	107	3.47	2.86
Average Improvement Per Cow	+7	+.23	+.03

Consider All The Benefits Of SUPER-EXT

- Increased milk production
- Good milk composition
- Good body condition
- Improved feed efficiency
- Improved breeding efficiency
- More income opportunity!
